Hart House Theatre

This year was Hart House Theatre's fourteenth season as an all-undergraduate theatre under the direction of Robert Gill. Four productions were presented with casts chosen from all colleges and faculties on the campus. The October production was Lillian Hellman's drama of greed and deceit, THE LITTLE FOXES. The second production, in November, was the first Toronto presentation of THE SIMPLETON OF THE UNEXPECTED ISLES, a nonsensical comedy by George Bernard Shaw. THE GLASS MENAGERIE, Tennessee Williams' haunting and nostalgic memory play was presented in January. The final production, in February, was Oscar Wilde's immortal comedy of manners, THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST. Each play ran for seven performances and over one hundred students participated during the season.

Hart House Theatre has proved itself a valuable part of the life of the University. Besides giving students an opportunity to act and take part in the technical operation of stage production, it is also providing an opportunity for both the undergraduates of the University and the Toronto public to see plays of high quality and interest. In addition to the Hart House Theatre series, productions of various kinds were presented by fifteen active groups on the campus.

This is Hart House

Hart House is a Club for undergraduate men of the University and its graduate and faculty members. Five standing committees and more than twelve club organizations provide a number of student and graduate activities. The elected representatives of the five standing committees, together with the club organizations, contribute to the programmes and policy of the House. These pages offer information about some of the outstanding events in the House during this year.

WARDEN'S MESSAGE

Forty years ago, on November 11, 1919, a Gothic building located in the centre of the University of Toronto campus was officially opened by the Duke of Devonshire, then Governor General of Canada.

In very large measure this House was the result of the inspiration of Mr. Vincent Massey, acting on behalf of the Massey Foundation, which made this magnificent gift to the University.

The purpose of the House is fully expressed in the Prayer of the Founders, carved in stone outside the entrance to the Great Hall:

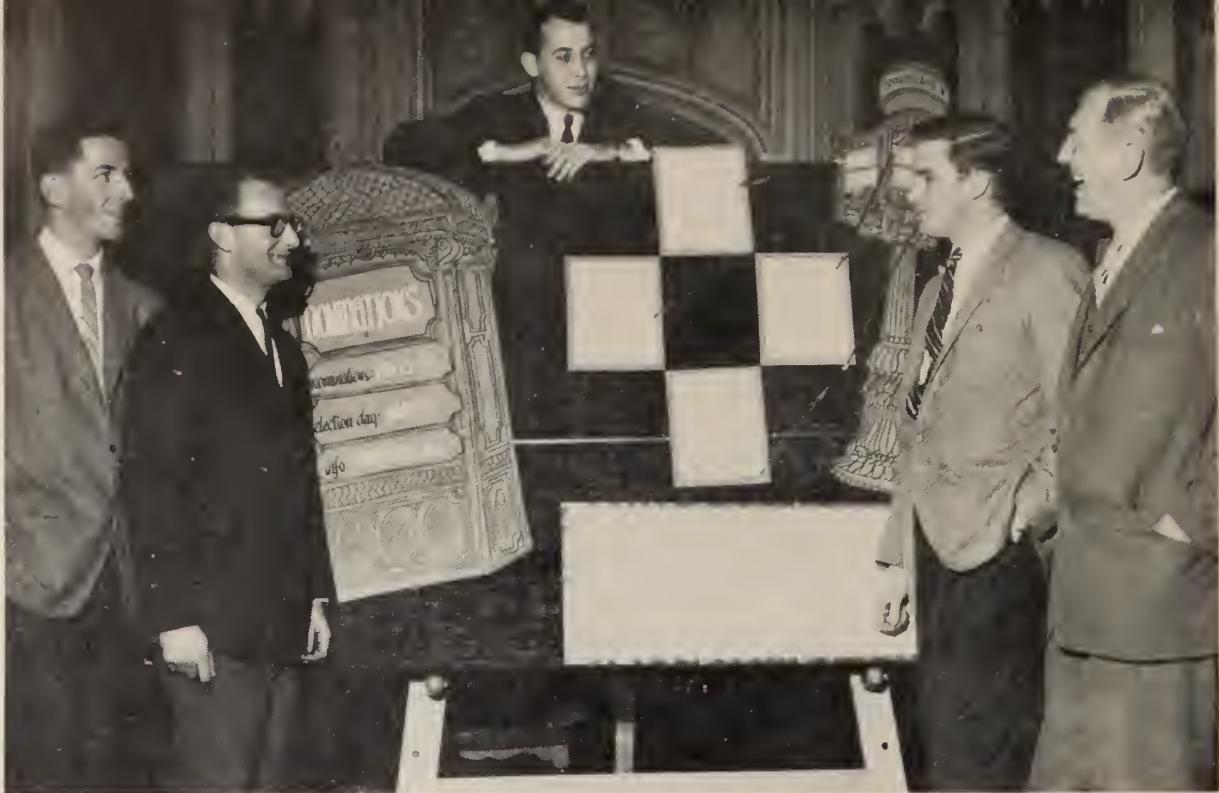

"The prayer of the founders is that Hart House, under guidance of its Warden, may serve in the generations to come the highest interests of this University by drawing into a common fellowship the members of the several colleges and faculties, and by gathering into a true society the teacher and the student, the graduate and the undergraduate: further, that the members of Hart House may discover within its walls the true education that is to be found in good fellowship, in friendly disputation and debate, in the conversation of wise and earnest men, in music, pictures and the play, in the casual book, in sports and games and the mastery of the body; and lastly, that just as in the days of war this House was devoted to the training in arms of the young soldier, so, in the time of peace its halls may be dedicated to the task of arming youth with strength and suppleness of limb, with clarity of mind and depth of understanding, and with a spirit of true religion and high endeavour."

During the intervening years it has been the effort of successive Wardens, committee members, undergraduates, graduates and faculty to find means of realizing this prayer.

It is my hope that as another year passes into history it has been not unworthy of the dream. And equally I hope that in the changing circumstances of our expanding University, Hart House may still serve in full measure the countless thousands who will throng this campus.

Joseph McCulley
Warden

HOUSE COMMITTEE

A major activity of the House Committee is the running of the annual Hart House Elections. Elections this year attracted 72 nominees to contest 44 vacancies. The House Committee again sponsored a Settlement Party, Invitation Dinners, Saturday Night Dances and the popular "Fall Dance". This Committee has charge of the "general welfare of the members of the House" and is responsible for supervision of repairs in the House. This year's notable refurbishing was to reguild the Coats of Arms and the frieze in the Great Hall.

CALEDON COMMITTEE

"The Farm" as it is known to an increasing number of University people, is undergoing spectacular changes. During the summer of 1959 renovations were made which included an enlarged main lounge, improved heating and hot water systems, and new furniture. The old barn, remembered perhaps, as a dusty square-dance hall, was demolished to make way for a new and safer structure. Even without the barn the Farm was used to capacity all fall, but freak weather conditions from Christmas to March called a halt to many planned winter weekends. Summer activity at the Farm is on the upswing with male undergraduates and many faculty and graduate members discovering that for a casual visit or Sunday picnic the Farm is the place to go.

FINNISH EXCHANGE

During the summer of 1959, eight students from the University of Toronto went to Finland as the fifth phase in the Hart House Finnish Work-Study Seminar. Two groups of Canadian students and two groups of Finnish students have previously taken part in this exchange. The students participated in orientation tours in Finland and then took positions in Finnish industry and professions. This exchange is co-sponsored by Hart House and the National Union of Finnish University students.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

A Pacemaker low-power transmitter, a Thunderbolt high-power amplifier, an oscilloscope . . . and Mel Katz.

Several new contacts have been made by the Amateur Radio Club during an active year. The Club now boasts confirmed contact with 96 countries, including Saudi Arabia, Ghana and Outer Mongolia. New this year is a Canadian Intercollegiate Radio Net with UBC, other Western Universities and McGill. The Club has also participated in several international contests in which some of its members won awards.

CHESS CLUB

Event of the year for the Chess Club was a "Mammoth Tandem Simul" in the Great Hall of Hart House. Masters who moved against 65 opponents were Frank Anderson and George Berner. The Hart House Chess Club, which was founded in 1895, is a major center of chess activity in Toronto. The members participated in tournaments with Queen's, McGill and the University of Buffalo.

ART COMMITTEE

The Art Committee scheduled nine exhibitions during this year. In co-operation with UBC, the Art Committee brought to Toronto a collection of paintings by Seven West Coast Painters which was enthusiastically received by the art community of the University and the city. In addition to organizing and hanging exhibitions, the Art Committee have presented several art talks in the Gallery and have sponsored art classes given by an outstanding Canadian artist, Aba Bayefsky. The Art Committee are also charged with the care of the second-largest, private collection of Canadian Art in the country. As the occasion arises members of the Committee concur in the purchase of paintings to add to the collection. Purchased in 1959 was Carl Schaeffer's "Field Edge and Plain".

Field Edge and Plain by Carl Schaefer was purchased this year.

Ron Carr's picture "The Student" received an honorable mention in the Karsh Trophy Division.

CAMERA CLUB

Winner for the Senior Award in the 38th Annual Hart House Photographic Exhibition was Dr. D. A. Sprott. The prize-winning print was entitled "Winter Mood". The Junior Award was presented to J. McKenzie for "Eventide" and Bill Kantymir won the Bev Best Trophy for "This Sport, Curling". The Karsh Trophy was awarded to Ron Carr for his "Campus Cossack".

GLEE CLUB

The Hart House Glee Club this year gave concerts at Michigan State University, St. Michael's College, the Blue and White Christmas Tree, the Art Gallery of Toronto, the Empire Club of Canada, an All University Church Service and with the Band of the Ontario Regiment in Oshawa. Highlights of the year were the Tri-University Concert in the Great Hall with Colgate University and Michigan State University, and the Christmas Eve radio broadcast over CJBC. The fifty-man Club has been for two years under the direction of Rowland Pack.

Dean Boyd Neal, Glenn Gould, and Claude Frank meet in the Arbor Room before Mr. Frank's Concert for the CBC celebrity series.

The Music Committee had one of its most successful years. Such distinguished artists as Ezra Schabas, Betty-Jean Hagen and Harry Mossfield performed for some of the largest audiences to attend the Sunday Evening Concerts in several years. This Committee also arranged a series of Wednesday Five O'Clock Recitals, which was popular with the students. Of greatest interest were recitals by Paul Brodie, classical saxophonist, and by Eli Kassner, classical guitarist.

A musical event of historical importance was the first Jazz Concert to be heard in the Great Hall of Hart House. Guest artists for this occasion were members of the Oscar Peterson Trio. This was also the year for the occasion of the 300th Sunday Evening Concert programme to be held in the Great Hall. The guest artist was Betty-Jean Hagen, accompanied by Leo Barkin. Also in co-operation with CBC, the Music Committee presented three CBC Celebrity Concerts in the Great Hall, featuring Guiomar Novaes, Claude Frank and Claramae Turner.

"The year 1959-60 has been a momentous one for the Students' Administrative Council of the University of Toronto. It has been a year of triumphs, and a year of controversy. It was the year which saw the Student Blitz in aid of the National Fund for the University; it was the year which saw the first Student-Staff Academic Symposium; it was the year which saw the first North Carolina - Toronto 'Tarheel' exchange weekend. It was also the year which saw the first Race Relations Lecture and the 'Great Portfolio Controversy'. It was a year which saw the Council called upon to handle many more matters than any of its predecessors has ever discussed and it was the year which saw the Council handle important issues. It was a year to remember, a year of which to be proud." So opened the annual report of the President of the Students' Administrative Council, Walter McLean, for the academic year 1959-60.

Much of the credit for the success of this year must go to Walter himself. In addition to attending to the regular presidential duties of representing U of T at conferences, sitting on all Council committees, speaking for the Student Body at Caput meetings, attending to large amounts of paper work and correspondence, he offered definite leadership to the Council whenever controversial issues arose. He was the first to face an issue squarely, to consider the possibilities of solving the problem, and to attack the situation from the best possible angle. As the chief executive of the Council, he played a major part in the establishment of policy. His enthusiasm and his sense of humour kept the Council functioning as a unit at all times.

Vice-president, Barb Leamen had the important tasks of "decorating the President's office" and keeping peace between the male elements of the Executive Committee. As campus "Social Hostess", as chairman of the Blitz Committee and the Symposium Committee, she managed to keep busy and out of mischief throughout the year.

Finance Commissioner, Stan Dubas perhaps had the most difficult chore of all — saying "No — we can't afford it!" whenever other Council members came forth with gigantic schemes for bigger and better activities. Publications Commissioner Clive Chamberlain practised the fair art of diplomacy while mediating between the Council and "The Varsity" throughout their various disagreements. Michael Sherman, National Affairs Chairman took a big step forward by reorganizing the former EAC committees into a more efficient and cohesive National Affairs Committee.

WUS Chairman Penny Rennie kept busy with Canada Council scholars from abroad, the Share Campaign which raised $4000, and FROS, helping to integrate foreign students with their fellow undergraduates. Virginia Lomax emerged unscathed from two harrowing but wildly exciting exchange weekends: the annual Carabin weekend, and the newly established Tarheel exchange.

Stan Dubas, Finance Commissioner, gives blood in support of the university Red Cross campaign.

Vice-president Barb Leaman and two Blitz campaigners admire the encyclopedia awarded to the most successful faculty.

Nancy Davison, as Student Service Commissioner, organized a most successful United Appeal campaign, and saw that students donated 4300 pints of blood to the Red Cross. Her assistant, Louise MacDonald, raised $2300 for the University Settlement, and kept the campus in touch with the activities at Settlement House.

Peter Dembski was the Council's orator and parliamentarian, as well as the most active UTDU Chairman; although through no fault of his own he was unable to arrange a U of T tournament this year, he organized a debating team which won an excellent reputation for the standard of U of T debating. Jim Little, AVR Chairman, described "Christopher Jones" as "an artistic success but a financial flop", but his experience and suggestions should help to put next year's AVR back into the black. Blue and White Chairman Dave Tavender kept all-campus activities in high gear, and as well as dances, pep rallies, and Christmas Tree, established the new Ice Frolics as a major success.

June Clark as Music Chairman faced the difficult task of reorganizing the University Chorus and Orchestra under student directors. Walter Kemp and John Swan managed these positions admirably, and will continue in them next year. Two art exhibits were shown on campus by CUSAC, under the chairmanship of Marika Malkow. Milton Houpt as University Chairman turned in an excellent report of the bookstore, dispelling the rumours of inefficiency in that quarter. Education Chairman Bruce Barrett established a Race Relations lecture series on campus to be continued next year and as long as interest in this subject remains high on this campus.

To hardworking members of the many Council committees: "Thanks for a job well done." To the office staff: "Thanks for putting up with many demands and often total lack of experience." To faculty advisors Dean Earp of Trinity College and Professor Slemmon of SPS: "Your availability, advice, and encouragement were appreciated." To "The Varsity" editor, Sam Asjenstat, to "Otherside" editor Mark Nichols, and to "Torontonensis" editor Sandra Whittall: "Thanks for working with the Council." To the excellent advisors Mr. MacDonald, Miss Knowlton, and Mr. Murrill, little can be said except "Thanks for everything."

The second annual University Dinner, and the Grad Ball brought the year to a close. But the work of the Council continues, growing and flourishing in spite of setbacks and discouragements. With the weight of the students of this University behind it, the Students' Administrative Council will always have an important place on this campus.

BLUE AND WHITE SOCIETY

BACK ROW: Bill Russell (Knox), Marilyn Croucher (St. Hilda's), Bruce Henderson (Trin.), Bill Scott (Eng.), Dave Sinclair (Wycliffe), Ron Pocklington (Emmanuel), Ted Yeates (Forestry).

FRONT: Norah Burns (S.M.C.), Liz Addison (Vic.), Weesee Barrier (S.M.C.), David Tavender (Chairman), Sue Hamilton (U.C.), Vivian Pancer (Pharm.), Eileen Floyd (Nursing), Holly Reid (P.O.T.).

ABSENT: Don Cameron (Law), Cathy Cole (P.H.E.), Fred Valentine (Arch.).

The Blue and White Society functions as a subcommittee of the S. A. C. and its chairman is a member of that body. The members of the Blue and White itself are representatives selected from the various colleges and faculties in the University. The tasks of the Society are chiefly concerned with the organization of student social activities on the University campus.

Precarious excitement and just plain hard work, perhaps, most aptly describe the atmosphere of the Blue and White this year as they undertook several new and challenging enterprises. Among the most notable of these were . . . The Varsity Queen Contest, which saw Marjorie Chapman selected as the most enviable girl on campus, and the spanking-new Ice Frolics which successfully filled the mid-Spring term gap caused by the vacancy left by the now-departed Vinter Carnival. Much more of the excitement, however, was bought only at the price of precariousness. There are quite a few who will not soon forget that chilly evening late in October when the Home-Coming Show, forced outside into Varsity Stadium kept a large crowd happy and reasonably warm. Priscilla Wright had everyone cheering so loudly that the producer was literally shaking in his boots for fear that the ominous clouds would take the noise as an invitation to visit the stadium with a teeming deluge. Priscilla left, and the crowd subsided; the deluge managed to withhold its presence until the middle of the Float Parade the following morning!

The Fall Dances in Hart House were successful as usual and the Pep Rallies and Tea Dances, rotating this year between the Drill Hall and Varsity Arena, maintained their accustomed torrid pace. The Christmas Tree, with a revised format moved smoothly through the ridiculous with Santa Claus Jr. and Julian Porter (Grad '59) to the sublime with carols by the Hart House Glee Club and the Christmas Readings by Warden McCulley and President Bissell.

The committee members of the Blue and White did an exceptionally fine job this year in fulfilling their duties, and the Chairman would like to extend his gratitude to them for turning what at times seemed to be impossible tasks into happy accomplishments.

Honour Awards were presented to outstanding graduating students at the Honour Award Banquet.

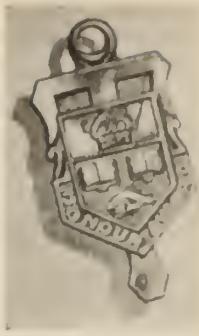

An extraordinary Honour Award was presented to Dr. Murray Ross by Lieut.-Gov. Keiller Mackay shown here with SAC president Walter McLean.

SAC Honour Awards

The HONOUR AWARD of the Students' Administrative Council is granted to those students of the graduating year who have contributed most notably to the undergraduate life of the University as a whole.

The recipients are determined by an Honour Award Committee on the basis of nominations received from all the colleges and faculties. The award is symbolized by a gold key and certificate. This year the presentations were made by Chancellor Jeanneret at the Second Annual University of Toronto Dinner.

W. U. S.

WORLD UNIVERSITY SERVICE

The World University Service is an international organization, designed to foster co-operation between members of the world wide university community. W.U.S. of Canada has 29 local committees at colleges and universities across the country, each one carrying out a program to aid in their threefold objectives: material aid to students' faculties and universities in need; education programs; scholarship and study programs.

The U. of T. committee of W.U.S., under chairman Penny Rennie and co-chairman Dave Scroggie, experienced an active year in organizing the program. The year began with the two chairmen plus the faculty advisor, Father Hennessey, spending an inspiring and informative Thanksgiving weekend at a National conference in Montreal. On their return they quickly set out to organize a full year of W.U.S. activities.

They hired Carole Anne Mason to mother the 30 Canadian Council Scholars. She capably took them under wing, met them at the airport, found accommodation for them, and when they all finally arrived, had a lively reception for them at her home.

During the last week in November the annual Treasure Van was held. This handicraft sale featured articles from Yugoslavia, Mexico and India, plus some native French Canadian and Eskimo work. Sandy Johnson did a fine job in making the sale which raised $3,301.00 a real success.

This money, along with that raised by the annual Share Campaign, went to W.U.S.' international Program of Action. Because of a joint charity campaign held by the Engineers in the fall, W.U.S. was able to send $700 to relieve earthquake-stricken Japan. An additional $3,900 was raised at the end of January in the campus wide Share Campaign directed by Doug. Ward. Garrick Hagon and Steve Otto organized a serious program to educate the students about the purposes of W.U.S. so that they would understand the utility of their contributions.

Last year's three summer Seminar delegates, Mary Fraser, Paul Druckman and Bob Mathews gave a heavy schedule of speeches at campus clubs, churches and residences. Alison Dingle organized an informative evening with Professor Krefetz and Art Scace speaking on Israel where this year's seminar will be held. As a result many applications were received and this year's three delegates were selected: Sandy Johnson, Jerry Rosenberg and Lionel Mausberg.

To aid prospective European travellers, Anglea Smart organized a series of five lectures. These were held in January and February and provided a wealth of information for the large crowds which attended.

Numerous occasions to meet and talk with foreign scholars afforded opportunities for the U. of T. student to become familiar with areas apart from his own community. One such occasion was provided by the W.U.S. Caledon Seminar which was organized by Host chairman, Jane Watson. Approximately 30 students of mixed nationalities attended this seminar to achieve a better understanding of the problems which confront the "East-West" relationship.

Finally, the Toronto W.U.S. pledged its support to the nation wide World Refugee Committee. Tony Jennings worked to educate the campus about this grave situation and held a brief two day Blitz to aid in a more practical way.

The year came to a close in gay fashion with a sherry party, held to thank all the capable workers who aided in W.U.S. activities during the year.

WEEKENDS

The activities of the Weekend Exchange Committee under the co-chairmanship of Virginia Lomax and John Wood were considerably expanded this year. In addition to the twelve-year-old Carabin Exchange with the University of Montreal, an exchange was established with the University of North Carolina.

Father Richard B. Donovan, St. Michael's College, acting as staff advisor to the Carabins for his second year, once again saw the 40 students from both U. of T. and U. of M. attain a better understanding of each other during the two weekends of discussion, dinners, parties, and informal talks.

During the Tar Heel Exchange with UNC 20 students from U. of T. visited Chapel Hill in November, and in return 22 students arrived here in January. Dean A. J. Earp of Trinity College acted as staff advisor for this new exchange, one which the committee hopes will become an integral part of campus life as the traditional Carabin Exchange.

In addition to running these two exchanges the committee was responsible for the drawing up of selection committees of staff and students to choose U. of T.'s delegates to such conferences as the McGill Conference on World Affairs, and the Scona Conference at Texas A & M.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The National Affairs Committee, closely allied with the National Federation of Canadian University Students, links the University of Toronto with the other University campuses throughout Canada and the United States. Such a link is found in the National Art and Photography contest in which U. of T. netted nearly one-half the honours.

An active year was witnessed by the local committee. Following the National Congress, the committee endeavoured to determine the possibility and advisability of holding a student seminar with 1,000 in attendance. Following the turn of the year, U. of T. hosted 100 delegates to the Ontario Regional Conference.

Steps are constantly being taken by this organization to draw Canadian students closer together and to improve their status in any way possible.

U. of T. Debating Team

Winning debates against other universities may not be the sole criterion for judging the success of an annual debating programme, but it is at least one sign that "activity" was the keynote of 1959-60 U. of T. debating. The debating team triumphed over such far-flung schools as Michigan, Boston, Dalhousie, Assumption, Acadia and Wellesley. Unfortunately, because of the character of the U.S. national debating topic this year, the team was prevented from entering most of the larger American tournaments. Toronto did enter the McGill Winter Carnival tournament and the Pennsylvania State University tournament — both more "National topic" tournaments. The teams did admirably — placing among the top four winners in both events.

The High School Debating Programme of previous years, enjoyed continued success in 1959-60. Plans for next year include a general reform programme to revitalize the make-up of the team and increase campus-wide participation. A permanent nucleus of debaters will be carried over to next year's team to provide continuity in the programme.

A noted innovation this year was the initiation of a Maritime Provinces debating tour. Bob Kaplan and Max Rotstein took a five day flying tour to various universities in the Halifax area. Much of the credit for the smoothness and efficiency of this year's programme belongs to the team's faithful Off-Campus Director, Miss Eve Hargrave, who handled all travel arrangements.

U. of T. Debating Union

The purpose of the University of Toronto Debating Union is to organize debating on an all-campus level and thus to arouse interest in debating throughout the University. The Executive of the Union is composed of representatives from the debating societies of all the colleges and faculties on campus.

The first activity of the Union in the fall is the arrangement of the trials from which the University Debating Team is chosen. This year the team was enlarged to consist of twenty members and four alternates in order to carry out an extensive program. The composition of the team was further changed in the hope that continuity would be achieved from one year to the next and team solidarity strengthened. By this legislation it is also intended that in future years a coach would be employed to raise the already high calibre of Toronto's debating representatives.

The Union, in its efforts to promote debating in Canadian Schools has re-entered the all-Canadian Inter-University Debating League. In addition it introduced the policy of sending a team to debate in the Maritime Provinces. This year's team won all its debates at Dalhousie, Acadia, and Mount Allison Universities.

The Union returned to the policy of emphasizing tour as well as tournament debating. This year, tours were made to Boston where M. I. T., Boston University and Radcliffe were included, to University of Michigan, Michigan State and Assumption University and to Queens, R. M. C., and McGill. The first two of these tours were completely successful as the teams won all their debates.

Toronto entered tournaments at McGill, Western and Penn State and the team placed well at all three.

The public service program initiated last year was continued. Members of the team demonstrated the parliamentary style of debating at various high schools in the Toronto district. Unfortunately the University of Toronto tournament planned for December of this year was cancelled because of the small number of schools able to participate. It is hoped that a further attempt in this field will be made successfully next year.

The University of Toronto Debating Union sponsored the Model Parliament again this year. The C. C. F. won the election for the first time in the university's history — a fact which added interest to the already popular student event. Warden Joseph McCulley acted as governor-general, and John Roberts, Jerry Case and Professor Bora Toskin competently carried out the task of speakers for the parliament.

Blue and White Band

The Music Committee of the SAC undertook the management of this band late in the year. Up to this time it had not had adequate aid or guidance regarding general policy or SAC support.

There were many difficulties to overcome in getting a band together in time for the first football game of the 59-60 Season. However, these were dealt with by the Director, George Arnold and his three assistants, who managed to organize a band of good quality by their free expenditure of time and effort. In future years, the conductor will be able to profit from the aid of the Music Committee, and in addition, may augment his program and make plans with the full support of the Music Committee and the SAC.

U. of T. Chorus and Symphony Orchestra

At the end of a surprisingly successful season, the orchestra and chorus were completely reorganized under new management, student conductors, John Swan and Walter Kemp, rather than professors of the Faculty of Music. Although they and their assistants were faced with many difficulties regarding fewer numbers, choice of music, changed places of rehearsal and loss of music stands, the fine quality of their concerts proved that their effort was not in vain.

This year, the Inter-University Choral Festival was held at Toronto toward the end of February, and choruses from McMaster, Western, OAC and Toronto, and the massed choir of all four at the end of the concert, performed superbly. The U. of T. Orchestra gave an excellent performance in mid-March in spite of late auditions and lack of time to prepare. The U. of T. Chorus also had little time to make ready for a full concert of its own but performed surprisingly well. It was an inspiring, productive year !

George Harper, as staff photographer, spent hours arranging the formal portraits and informal shots of the professors featured in the new Profiles section. Peeter Sepp, in third year Architecture, again designed a modern and exciting cover and dust jacket.

Sande Evans had the mammoth responsibility of arranging and matching 2,000 grad photos and 2,000 biography cards. Always reliable and undaunted, Sande also found time for second year Poli. Sci. and Ec. at Victoria.

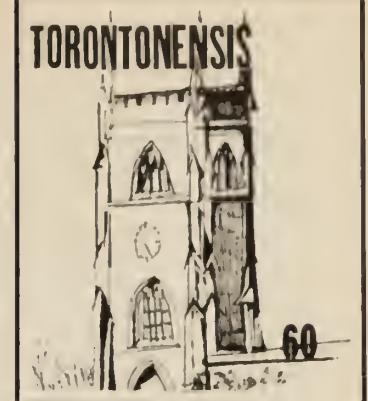

Layout for the spring half of the Campus Life section was again handled by Mary Campbell, who combined her experience with new ideas to create appealing page designs.

Two U.C. freshies, Jennifer Moore and Allison Low, joined the staff this year as section editors. Jennifer found time to sing in Katy Cruel and Christopher Jones besides producing attractive layouts for the All-Campus Clubs. Allison turned her enthusiasm and fresh ideas towards the fall Campus Life pages to produce an interesting section.

Torontonensis 1960

Marg Fisher and Jack Clissold stepped up from section editors to assistant editors this year. Always willing and capable, and almost always cheerful, they carried a great part of the editorial responsibilities for Nensis '60. Besides studying second year Poli. Sci. and Ec., Marg took part in a wide range of Vic activities, and Jack, at University College, enjoyed the sociability of a singing group of friends. Marg produced the modern and appealing expansion section, and Jack designed the attractive and dignified layout for Profiles, a new feature this year.

As editor-in-chief, Sandra Whittall has been busy with layout, organization, and the general responsibility of Nensis '60. Graduating in French and German from U.C., Sandy looks back on four years of Torontonensis, in addition to basketball, VCF and residence activities.

TORONTONENSIS PIN

A permanent recognition of outstanding contribution to Torontonensis "in terms of precious hours, reliability, and initiative, fresh and courageous ideas, and pleasant enthusiasm", the Torontonensis pin was awarded this year to Marg Fisher, Ina Healey, and Jack Clissold.

Copy editor Ina Healey brought a background of professional newspaper experience to her fourth year on the Nensis staff. She also spent her time being Head Girl in Falconer House and a student in English Lang. and Lit. Prompt, competent, and reliable, Ina received the Torontonensis pin in recognition of her valuable contribution to the yearbook.

Sheila Jones and Sandra Royes worked with Stephanie Dmytryshyn on the professional faculty organizations pages. Their co-operative efforts resulted in a neat and attractive section.

Real harmony on the 'nensis staff! Marg McMeekin and Anne Brush (shown with guitar-playing friend) teamed up on the design for the Hart House section, as well as for second year Psychology and a lot of folksinging.

Marnie Gunn (Vic II) returned for a second year on 'nensis, making good use of her experience as Girls' Sport editor. With Carol Elliot as her assistant, she produced a fine section. Larry Davidson and Allan Stauffer, both in second year Maths and Physics at U.C. worked industriously and resourcefully to make the Men's Athletics section lively and interesting.

THE VARSITY

The scene is a darkened Varsity office. (It is always dark in The Varsity office.) Reporter Barry Zimmerman tries to sneak past News Editor Terry Bourke. Bourke spots him, and poor Zimmerman hasn't a chance.

"Going to work tonight?" asks Bourke, ominously.

"Maybe . . ." (suspiciously).

"I'll give you a four point byline if you cover this story," says Bourke lightly. "Some U of T girl got picked up on a lesbian rap."

"Great stuff," interrupts wkr, "if she's in a sorority I'll have a column for tonight. Or better yet, maybe she's on the SAC."

Meanwhile Zimmerman is thinking "a BYLINE a BYLINE!" and is rushing around Bourke. Zimmerman is blissfully ignorant of type sizes. He is fast learning.

Zimmerman leaps gaily out the door with visions of half-inch bylines dancing through his id.

Later we see Managing Beard Harvey Shepherd lounging behind the makeup desk shouting "EXPEDITE, EXPEDITE" to no-one in particular (mainly because no-one is there except Jayne who is thinking good old valiant Harv is yelling EXODUS and is preparing to leave.)

Zimmerman knocks out 160 lines of copy on the greatest crime story of the year. Unfortunately it has to be cut to eleven lines to make room for the story of an SMC janitor who was almost impeached.

The Varsity office was a pleasant place to work this year, in spite of everything. The people were happy, most of the time, and they made their jobs easier by being happy. They learned a lot about newspapers, and about people.

It wasn't the same outside the office. Because of the bitterness and hatred in relations between The Varsity and the SAC, The Varsity came close to crumbling several times.

hind that beard crouches the best known and best loved of all Varsity staffers, Managing Editor Harvey Shepherd. He used to smoke pipe. Now that everyone has copied him, he has started to roll his own cigarettes.

Executive Editor Mark Nichols peers out at the world from his position at the makeup desk. He was also Editor-in-Chief of The Varsity's magazine Otherside.

The boss, Sam Ajzenstat, the man who wanted a peaceful year, worries with Features Editor David Lewis Stein.

"So you think you can write a modern dance review?" asks AM&D Editor Peter Brawley.

Co-managing Editor Susie Breslin is probably the most difficult animal to photograph in its natural lair.

wkr gave his life for his paper, briefly. Then he returned to haunt sororities and the SAC.

What The Varsity considered "pointless and childishly political interference from the young students running the SAC," made the year, they said, "a lot tougher than it could have been".

Nevertheless it was worth it over all. The university grew and The Varsity reported that growth.

With its ear to the ground, The Varsity revealed a case of discrimination practised by sororities. This eventually led to the Caput's declaration that fraternities and sororities were to be cut off completely from the university.

The year was filled with people, people few would have known existed except for The Varsity.

People like Bobbi Arrington, Communist Dan Goldstick, Walter McLean, Marg Chapman and Ries Karvanaque, the latter a complete fraud who has never made a dime by renting herself out as a beatnik, but was the product of a writer's joke, followed by a little good-natured greed.

Sam Ajzenstat kept us together in the face of almost overwhelming odds. Mark Nichols produced a fine magazine until it was pulled up by the roots from under him. And so on down the masthead.

Harvey Shepherd will remember how he managed to make up pages with Varsity Staff Companion Jayne Nesbitt (Associate News Editor) on his knee.

Susie Breslin will remember the few times somebody beat her to the phrase "Hello duck, how are you?"

Alan Walker will remember all the people he offended and will hope they forget him (but not forgive, right?)

News Editor Terry Bourke will remember sitting in innumerable bathtubs, smoking innumerable cigars and tracking a Bella Coola boq to its lair.

Features Editor David Lewis Stein will remember the accession and a Varsity that is not necessarily older than yesterday's paper.

Sports Editor Dave Griner will remember (for next year) how he managed to get his page out consistently before midnight and will try to apply the principle to the whole paper.

AM&D Editor Peter Brawley will remember the accession too, and the many center spreads he created.

Publicity Editor Kay McCook will remember one dozen long-stemmed red WUSes for her hard work.

And both halves of the Photo Editor, Michael Cavanagh and Roma Horban, will remember Jacques Roberge and what he develops his prints in.

Publicity Editor Kay McCook, trying to get through one evening without having to do a blood story.

Varsity pins, awarded for long, tireless etc. service and worth their weight in gold to anybody who gets one, went to Terry Bourke, Peter Brawley, Mike Chykaliuk, Roma Horban, Kay McCook, Jayne Nesbitt, David Lewis Stein and Alan Walker.

The Anita Freedman award for creative writing went to David Lewis Stein for his acres of fine feature copy throughout the year.

For the first time in the history of The Varsity, a special award was presented — to Alan Walker, the sororities' friend, for his column "Odds and Ends".

xt year's flagellator-in-chief will be Ed Berts, friend of the SAC. He has promised highly efficient and grimly, rigorously managed newspaper.

ithful (20) Sports Editor Dave Griner moves a slot next year to Managing Editor.

He's the only one on the staff that looks like a reporter—sports writer Gene Glisky.

News Editor Terry Bourke did double, or was it triple duties all year. Here he interviews a subject for one of his memorable profiles.

The other half—Roman Horban.

In each issue of The Varsity there appears something underneath the masthead called the adds. In the adds are listed the names of the people that helped put out that particular paper. Some of the names appear regularly.

TODAY'S ISSUE: George Harpur, John McGoey, Noel Bates, Barry Zimmerman, Alvin Shapiro, Carolyn Purden, Fran Maine, Barb Amiel, Terry Shaw, Fred Host, and others who may be forgotten but are not gone.

It has been an active year for Devonshire House. Some new developments at the Residence during the year deserve special mention. A Ladies' Room and a Television Room were equipped and opened. Work is progressing rapidly on a Library, which is being built in the basement of South House. Members of the residence sat on the committees planning each of these new developments, and residents contributed their work, time, and money, towards the completion of the projects.

The Music Committee launched a keen controversy in the fall when it polled the members to see whether jazz records should be included in the record collection. As a result of the poll, a number of jazz records were bought on a trial basis. The Music Room was in frequent use during the year.

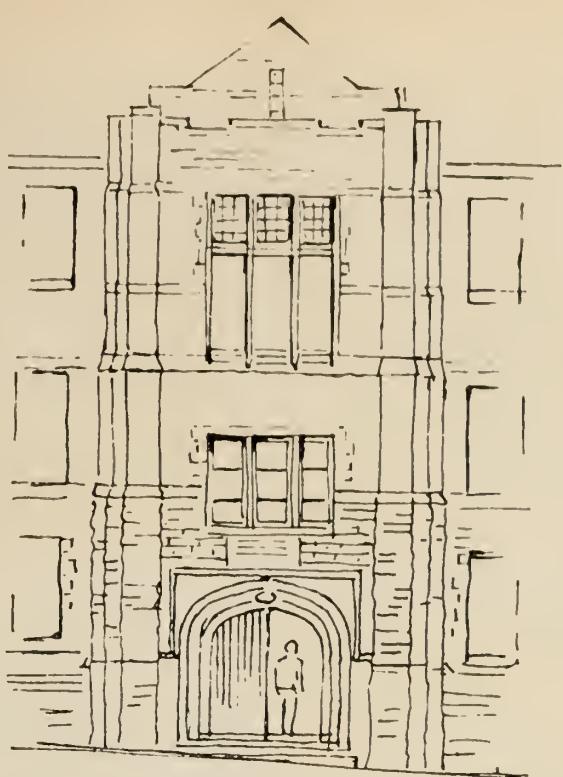

The tradition of self-government remains at the centre of the life of the college. Members continued to administer their own affairs through the committees of the three Houses, while an overall leadership was given to Devonshire House by the Residence Council, which is made up of the House Presidents, and two other elected representatives from each House. Tom Yates did an outstanding job as President of the Council, and he was ably assisted by Bill Collard, the Secretary - Treasurer. The Council met over coffee about once a month in the Dean's rooms.

The program of special evenings with guest speakers, films, discussion groups, and visitors to the residence continued to flourish. In the fall Andrew MacFarlane of the Evening Telegram, spoke on journalism in general, and on his coverage of the Fidel Castro movement in particular. Chris Currie, a graduate student from New Zealand, who is a member of the House, showed pictures, and spoke on his native land. Former Dons provided the House with two stimulating evenings during the winter. Professor K. B. Jackson (South House, 1923-1926), the head of the Department of Applied Physics, gave a dramatically illustrated talk on Three Dimensional Vision; and Denis Smith (East House, 1956-58), the Registrar of York University, spoke on his impressions of Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland which he had visited recently. In January, Sir George Clark was a guest of Devonshire for a few days, during which time he met and talked with many members of the College. In February, the Honourable Paul Martin spent an evening at the Residence, leading a vigorous and interesting discussion, which still has occasional echoes in the Common Rooms.

An Art Committee, made up of interested members of the House, was busy during the year arranging an exhibit of photography, an exhibit of paintings by John Hall, an exhibit of landscape designs, and, taking all aspects of art as its province, an exhibit of beer mugs. The Committee also arranged for the artist, John Hall, to spend an evening at the Residence, talking about painting, and discussing his own work, some of which was hanging on the walls in the Common Room. During the year the House acquired another painting for its growing art collection, "The Red Canoe", by Will Ogilvie, which was the gift of a former Don, Douglas Wilkins (North House, 1957-59).

Snow Sculpture
in the "Quad".

Each of the Houses held a number of parties and stags during the year, perhaps the most memorable of which were: South House's famous dinner and dance at Cafe Maison Sud; the "Shipwreck" party in East House; and a beatnik gathering in North House, which was rendered historic by a reading of poetry by the House President, John Moylan. However, the highlight of the residence's social program was again the annual Christmas Party. Many alumni, guests and former Dons joined in the festivities, and approximately 400 people attended the event. The Devonshire Christmas Party is looked upon as one of the most enjoyable events of the University year.

Celebrating the renovation of the washrooms.

The Residence has continued a lively, informal athletic program, which includes inter-house basketball games, an inter-house hockey schedule, which was this year won by East House, and a table tennis tournament. In the thick of these activities, Devonshire has continued to be concerned with both the academic progress, and the wider education of its members. In the last examination results, about one third of the members took honours, and a high proportion received scholarships and awards.

The 200 members of the College continue to come from every province of Canada, and from many parts of the world: Venezuela, Malaya, England, Hong Kong, India, Barbaros, Scotland, Hungary, Ireland, Poland, Jamaica, Holland, Norway, Egypt, and the United States. They are enrolled in: Medicine, Architecture, Forestry, Pharmacy, Arts, Dentistry, Law, the College of Education, the School of Graduate Studies, P.H.E., and every course in Engineering. This mixture of backgrounds, and of academic interests within one residential college is, in itself, a valuable educational experience.

In addition to participating in a full residence program, members of Devonshire House have made a notable contribution to the life of the University in scholarship, sports, and a variety of extra-curricular interests.

St. Michael's College Co-operative—a student enterprise which has developed into a $20,000 business, can hardly be relegated to the role of a minor activity on the campus. Student origin in 1946 — student operation and direction — student service — such are the foundations on which this institution rests. For this reason, its continued success depends not so much on the ability of a few students as it does on the co-operation of all.

Centrally located in Carr Hall, the Co-op offers many benefits to its members. Not only does it serve the practical purpose of a lunch room, but it presents the opportunity to meet, on less formal grounds, both fellow students and members of the faculty. Accompanied by steaming coffee, discussion revolves around topics as interesting and varied as the characters who patronize this institution.

The major project of the Board of Directors, in addition to their role as over-seers, was the "At Home Breakfast Party" — the "coup de grace" of the At Home weekend. A dedicated and able crew spent a month of long and busy days and longer and busier nights in preparation for this event. By the night of the dance the Co-op was garbed in the beauty of a tropical paradise. Sufficient credit and praise can not be given to those who contributed so much of their time to make the evening a success.

Positions held for the year 1959-60 were as follows: Nina Frosell, President; Mel Brandon, Vice - President; Dexter Gormley, Treasurer; Mary Jane Norris, Secretary; Richard Napoli, Manager.

Co-operative

Studying almost
painless here

The Co-op achieves the best compromise between academic, social and truly economical living. Now boasting seven houses and 150 members of all nationalities, it exemplifies a successful attempt to run a student residence by democratic and co-operative methods. The executive powers in the residence rest with a Board of Directors, which is elected from among the members by the members.

Everyone in the Co-op loves to work! At least they don't mind it, since the economy accommodation at the Co-op is made possible principally because of the work hours which the members themselves put in, to operate the organization. This three or four hours each week could involve anything from being general manager to washing dishes.

Lots of fun, too — parties, house shows, and bull-sessions at coffee time are all part of life as a Co-op member. There are informal discussions about anything and everything, formal debates and studying . . . studying . . . studying.

Student Christian Movement

SCM Bible Study

The Toronto SCM sponsored an extensive program of study and worship in the '59 - '60 academic year. The fall program commenced with the "Prophetic Profiles" series of lectures, a series that has proved extremely popular with the undergraduates. Professor E. L. Fackenheim began with "Kierkegaard", followed by Professor W. O. Fennell on "Barth", and Rev. R. W. Miller, SCM Book Steward on "Camus". The fourth address, entitled "Dewey", was given by Professor A. F. Skinner of O.C.E., and the series finished with Professor W. H. Dray's lecture, "Toynbee".

A mysterious newcomer to the SCM program this year was an esoteric group which met under the guidance of Professor John Coleman and called themselves "Seminar I". This is a vigorous program of study and discussion for sophomores who wish to prepare themselves for Christian leadership. The word is that these hardy folk were even asked to prepare seminar papers!

The focal point of the year was the World Student Christian Federation Conference held in Athens, Ohio. Thirty students from the University of Toronto attended the five-day Conference at Christmas time, and returned from the experience with a new perspective on the task of the Church in a changing world. The Conference was prefaced by study groups held in different parts of the University, and attended by many who did not go to Athens. The 30 University of Toronto delegates were representative of most of the Christian groups on campus. The delegates spent five glorious days in the luxurious institutions of Ohio University.

They met and talked with nearly four thousand other students on such themes as "Racial Tensions" and "Technological Upheaval". When it was all over they returned and continued to talk about the Conference for weeks afterwards. The Conference was followed up by a study group on "Politics and Evangelism".

The SCM is conscious of the changing circumstances of Christian work on the campus. In the past the SCM has been the medium through which the Protestant Confessional groups have carried out their work on campus. In accordance with this aim it has never allowed itself to become just another campus organization, but has sought to represent the work of the whole Catholic Church.

It is now the custom for Confessional groups to appoint their own chaplains for the purpose of counselling and organization. This has meant some duplication in program. However, in an attempt to obviate this problem, discussions have been initiated with one of the denominational chaplaincies which, it is hoped, will lead to some sort of organizational union. In the coming years the Student Christian Movement hopes to continue to contribute to student Christian life on the campus.

Varsity Christian Fellowship

The Varsity Christian Fellowship participates in an international organization with an eighty-year old history of Christian student work. At present it not only has chapters on approximately 500 campuses of North America, but also in over twenty foreign countries. V.C.F. exists as proof to the academic world that university students can believe in, and practise Christianity as set forth in the New Testament and yet remain intellectually alive.

To this end a wide spectrum of activity is sponsored, from pleasant summer camps to joint-stiffening ski-weekends, through well-organized University Missions down to the humble faculty noon-hour Bible discussion groups.

The traditional Campus Christmas Carolling was supported by a group of stalwart rain-coated nightingales and bull-frogs, ending up at Hart House for hot chocolate and a concert of Christmas music by members of the Faculty of Music. International Students were the guests of Mrs. Betty Madsen for Thanksgiving Day and the Christmas holidays, at Cherry Hill Farm. A ski-weekend at Collingwood provided members and friends with an opportunity to enjoy the snowy slopes of the Blue Mountains, as well as to consider the personal relevance of Christianity.

Of particular note on the campus this fall was the much-discussed "Mission in the University". Noon hour lectures attempted to give a consistent, reasonable defense of the group's Evangelical approach. Topics ranged from "The Psycho-dynamics of Jesus Christ" to "Protestantism and Modern Canadian Thought". The main missioner, Dr. Masumi Toyotome spoke at Convention Hall about the problem that students face. He pointed out that these personal problems could be resolved by intelligent faith in the living Christ.

The Mission proper was followed during the remainder of the year by a series of challenging lectures. Visiting professors included: Dr. F. Uhlir, Professor of Sociology, Dalhousie University, Dr. J. N. D. Anderson, Professor of Oriental Law, University of London and Dr. Stanford Reid, Professor of History, McGill University.

B'nai Brith Hillel Foundation

The B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at the University of Toronto is part of a national organization devoted to cultural, religious and counseling services among Jewish students at Canadian and American universities. It is represented on more than 200 campuses.

The Hillel Foundation seeks to weld the Jewish student body into a true community conscious of its religious and cultural heritage. It promotes inter-religious understanding and is vitally interested in inter-group relations.

The highlights of the 1959-60 season were addresses by Dr. Samuel Atlas, Prof. of Philosophy and Talmud, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, Dr. A. Altmann, Prof. of Jewish Philosophy and Mysticism, Brandeis University, Dr. Sidney B. Hoenig, Prof. of Jewish History, Yeshiva University, Dr. Abraham G. Duker, President of The College of Jewish Studies in Chicago, Dr. Frank Scott, Faculty of Law, McGill University. The All-University Jewish Religious Service of Worship was held on Sunday morning, January 17, in the Great Hall of Hart House. Rabbi Emanuel Rackman, Prof. of Political and Social Philosophy, Yeshiva University was the preacher. The Hillel Area Institute and Conference was held in Toronto from February 4 to 7. One hundred and thirty students representing many universities attended. Dr. Israel Knox, Prof. of Philosophy, New York University was the guest lecturer.

Students and guest lecturers participated in the Sabbath eve programs. Rabbi Aaron M. Kamerling, Director of Hillel, conducted his classes on Tuesdays on the subject "Jewish Ethics and Moral Philosophy". Many distinguished professors of the University of Toronto appeared on the Hillel Noon-Hour Series held at University College.

Presbyterian Fellowship

The Presbyterian Fellowship was organized in the belief that the strength of the Presbyterian Church in the future will depend to a large degree on the leadership provided by its university graduates. It exists to fulfil a threefold function: to bring students together for the purpose of knowing each other as Presbyterians and to establish a living fellowship between students; to bring a knowledge of the Presbyterian Church, its government, theology and character to the students; and to find a place in the unity and life of The Church. The 1959-60 Chairman is Douglas Lennox.

Christian Science Organization

The Christian Science Organization was formed to unite Christian Scientists on the campus in the closer bonds of Christian fellowship and to help all interested students learn the teachings of Christian Science. Meetings, open to all university students, are held twice a month, at which selections are read from the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. Students also have the opportunity to share their experiences in the practical application of Christian Science.

Each year in the fall, the Organization sponsors a lecture on Christian Science. This year's lecture, held at Victoria College in the Wymilwood Student's Union, was entitled "Christian Science: Healing Science of the Christ."

Open House at "Friendly Relations with overseas Students".

African students join in discussion.

All Students are welcome in the FROS common room.

FROS, located at 3 Willcocks Street serves as an International Student Centre on Campus. There are over 700 overseas students from 60 countries at the University of Toronto and of these, 600 have come to know FROS. For many students, both overseas and Canadian, FROS is a favorite place to visit for coffee and discussion at noon-hour. This year, FROS was the headquarters for the United Nations Club, the International Students' Organization and many other student groups.

The monthly Open House provided an informal social occasion for the meeting of students, both Canadian and overseas, with professors and friends both on and off the Campus. Dropping in on Saturday nights at FROS has also become a habit with many students. Each week the accent is on a different country, and students have proved to be expert in introducing the members to favorite foods from their homelands.

All students are welcome at FROS — where the office and common rooms are open daily, from nine to five p.m., Monday through Friday.

Polish Students' Club

The P.S.C. endeavours to promote unity among students of Polish origin by means of cultural and social activities.

This summer, several excursions were made to beaches in the Georgian Bay region, and to the lake country near Barry's Bay, where a large Polish (Cashubian) settlement exists. A memorable day was also spent at the Stratford Shakespearean Festival.

A portion of each general meeting is reserved for cultural activities. This year, the members heard Dr. Luckyj of the Slavic Department talk on aspects of contemporary Polish literature while Mr. J. Sulma lectured on Polish folk culture. An exhibit was arranged to mark the 150th anniversary of the birth of the great poet, Juliusz Slowacki. Another exhibit was planned in honour of the Polish composer, Fryderyk Chopin. The P.S.C. actively participated in the International Students' Festival where it presented an exhibit displaying Poland's history, an exhibition of Polish paintings from the Romantic era and a Chopin recital.

The annual Students' Ball in November honoured the graduating members. The Master of Ceremonies was a former club president, Dr. S. Haidasz, Ex-Member of Parliament.

The P.S.C. grads, 1960.

The Executive plans a May excursion to Alliance College, Pennsylvania.

Out of the 130 U. of T. students of Estonian origin, about 80 are members of the 'Eesti Uliopilaskond Torontos' or EUT, formed in 1949. The Association also has four honorary members who are members of the teaching staff.

The purpose of EUT is to keep Estonian students aware of their unique cultural and linguistic heritage and to provide fun in congenial surroundings. Contact is maintained with similar groups on three continents by occasional visits and a common periodical, the 'Alma Mater'.

This year, EUT organized a series of nine lectures and debates, ranging from serious topics, such as 'The Causes of World War I' to the more humorous topic, 'Resolved that university students should not date'. This last motion, of course was defeated; consequently, EUT sponsored various social events, culminating in the huge and successful New Year's Ball for the Estonian Community. This traditional New Year's Ball was a landmark in the history of EUT, for it marked the tenth anniversary of the organization. A thousand gay and festive people packed the Palace Pier, to aid in the celebration.

Besides the Ball, there were other social events. The last day of the fall term ended with a bang, for on that night the 'Night of the Capricorn' Dance was held, so that memories of recent exams and tests might sink into oblivion. A winter outing to Lake Simcoe involved skiing, 'sauna' for the more hardy, singing by the fire-side and some unrecorded hi-jinks. A getting-acquainted party for present fifth-formers, who might be potential freshies ended the year's social activities.

In the past EUT has helped to finance at least part of the education of many of its members in the form of loans, and awards and a $500 scholarship for advanced studies in Finland.

EUT also participated in the International Students' Festival.

West Indian Students' Association

Estonian Students' Association

The West Indian Students' Association is the largest foreign student organization on campus. Its membership, the fruits of a spirit which was engendered and developed in organizations of this nature in all the great centres of learning in the Western World, is drawn from the recently federated territories of the Caribbean. While the Association does not aspire to be a distinctly "national" group, it nevertheless, tries to keep the West Indian on campus informed of recent developments at home and encourages him to assess these developments in the light of his experience here.

The more general aims of the Association include the desire to foster on the campus an awareness of and interest in the West Indian cultural heritage and way of life. Its program of events includes debates and discussions, dances and the entertainment of West Indian officials visiting the city of Toronto. Among the distinguished visitors recently entertained by this Association were Sir Grantley Adams, First Prime Minister of the new Federation of the West Indies, Mr. John Mordecai, Federal Executive Secretary, and Mr. Hugh Springer, Registrar of the University College of the West Indies.

Associate membership which is open to anyone interested, permits full participation in the Association's activities.

U. of T. students discuss politics with Minister of Justice Fulton at the P.C. Student Federation Conference in Ottawa.

The Progressive Conservative Club experienced another successful year at the University. Under the presidency of David Crane, assisted by a hard-working executive, the club more than doubled last year's membership, held a record number of meetings, conducted a successful Caledon Conference, attended the PCSF National Seminar Conference in Ottawa, and participated in the Model Parliament.

A busload of U. of T. students attended the national conference of the PCSF in early February. This national student conference held in Ottawa turned out to be the largest student political gathering in the history of Canada. The entire Cabinet was subjected to a barrage of questions, criticisms and suggestions. Seminars were held and discussions took place on many different aspects of government policy. One of the highlights of the conference was a dinner with Prime Minister Diefenbaker as the guest speaker. Two U. of T. students were elected to the national executive: Gordon Ross was elected as secretary-treasurer and David Crane became the new national editor. Bob Amaron of McGill was elected president.

Christa Geolke, George Alexander and Beverley Sammon feel quite at home with the Diefenbakers during the Ottawa Conference.

At a large rally, attended by Hon. George Hees, University Conservatives elected Murray Corlett as their parliamentary leader. Under his dynamic leadership the Conservative Club campaigned vigorously but, for the first time in five years, came second instead of first. Although disappointed at not winning, the Conservatives took an active part in the Model Parliament and formed a strong, critical, and responsible opposition.

Among the speakers appearing at Conservative Club meetings this year were Fred Stinson M.P., Hon. George Hees, Minister of Transport, Egan Chambers M.P., parliamentary secretary to the Minister of National Defence, Frank McGee M.P., Dr. John Kucherepa M.P., Arthur Maloney M.P., John Pallett M.P., parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Paul Martineau M.P., parliamentary secretary to the Prime Minister.

For the third successive year, the Conservative Club held a weekend conference at the University farm at Caledon Hills. Chairman for the organization of the conference was Jerry Collins. Over 60 students participated in the conference. Among those present were Hon. James Allen, the Provincial Treasurer, Milan Jakubec, Toronto New Canadian leader, Heath McQuarrie M.P., Walter Dinsdale M.P., Professor Donald Creighton, and John Trimble, Ontario Y.P.C. President. Using the seminar system of the University of Toronto, discussions groups covered such fields as Communism, Canadian defence policy, international politics and Canadian history.

The University Chemical Club is an organization of 85 members, which meets regularly throughout the year to hear lectures on scientific topics. Among those who spoke this year were; Drs. R. N. Jones and H. J. Bernstein of the National Research Council and Drs. W. H. Rapson, M. J. Dignam, B. F. Crocker and D. B. DeLury of the University of Toronto staff.

However club activities were not confined to lectures alone. Forty-five members of the Chemical Club enjoyed a weekend field trip to the National Research Council in Ottawa. The annual Grads. vs. Undergrads. football game was held in November and was won hands down by the Undergrads. The forty-first annual banquet was held on Friday, February 19 at the Old Mill with approximately 100 members and their guests in attendance.

C.C.F. Club

Without making any existential commitment, it is fair to say that any campus club really is what it has done. The active nature of the C.C.F. Club has been created by the hard work of its members. Last year, the club sponsored:

— SEMINAR ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS, broken down into four panels on Africa, Asia, Europe, and the Bomb, composed of professors, students, and experts on foreign affairs.

— PANEL ON THE ARTS IN CANADA, in Vic., composed of poets Jay Macpherson, and Frank Scott, the editor of the Toronto Quarterly, Douglas Grant, and moderated by Prof. Hugo McPherson, well-known radio critic.

— DISCUSSION GROUPS beyond count, led by an assortment of lawyers, politicians, professors, union officials, and others.

— FIVE MAJOR SPEAKERS, on important subjects, including Donald MacDonald, MPP, E. B. Jolliffe, past leader of the C.C.F. opposition, Stanley Knowles, Vice-President of the C.L.C., Frank Scott, Q.C., Canada's foremost constitutional expert, and David Lewis, national president of the C.C.F. The attendance rose steadily from 90 to 220, which must prove something.

— DELEGATES to the annual Provincial Convention, the Provincial Council, and the Toronto and District Council.

— ELECTION CAMPAIGN, preceded by two months of discussion which created the C.C.F. program in booklet form. It included an important section on the problems of the mass society. The C.C.F. won, taking 8 of the 14 polls.

— MODEL PARLIAMENT LEGISLATION, carrying out economic and foreign affairs policy, and extending aid to the arts. A non-C.C.F. Varsity reporter stated: "In every session it was remarkable how few constructive statements come from the opposition benches. Time and time again the Liberal and Conservative members stood up and reeled off lists of clever names for the CCFers, such as "political beatniks" and "pseudo-moralists". The CCF offered political philosophy. The opposition offered insults.

— PARTIES. Political Parties are not the only kind. The C.C.F. Club did its best to maintain the difference.

Home Economics Club

An initiation at Caledon Farm set the fall term off to a good start for the Household Economics Club. The Freshie Tea which provided an opportunity for the girls of first year and their mothers to meet staff and students soon followed. The fall money-raising project was a most successful home-baking sale. The Household Economics Building took on an oriental look for the annual formal held on January 15, 1960. A Speaker's Night in March brought the '59 - '60 activities of the Household Economics Club to a successful close.

Biology Club

This year the club had eight exciting meetings (that's an average of one every three weeks), including movies, lectures, and student discussions. The club began the year with a movie, "The High Arctic-Life on the Land", followed by a lecture on "Radiation Biology" by Dr. G. M. Clark. Other meetings included a show of beautiful nature slides by Mrs. Mary Ferguson, A.P.S.A., a student discussion on summer jobs, and a film "Quetico".

Just before Christmas a party was held; the refreshments included fried grasshoppers, bees, and a smoked eel for the braver members.

The new year began with a talk on "The recording of bird songs" by Dr. William Grenn, then a lecture by Dr. D. G. Baker on "Radiation of the Whale Animal". Dr. Nancy Simpson and her assistant Dr. Chang spoke to the club about "Human Genetics", and the following Thursday the members went on a tour of the Biology department at the Hospital for Sick Children.

At the final meeting, a student discussion on the subject of "Food From the Sea" was held, and the executive for the year 1960-61 was held.

Geographer in a jam!

The opening meeting of the Geography Club, conducted by president, Sandra Bearance, featured an excellent new film on Canada's Arctic. This was a successful 'get-aquainted' meeting and many exchanges were made over coffee and cookies.

Other occasions for relaxation and fun were provided by a wiener roast in Hamilton with McMaster's Geography Club, and a Christmas party in December.

Discussions on a variety of topics, led by experts in their fields were held as well. On field trips perhaps the ideal was reached — academic investigation coupled with hearty fun.

Flying Club

New horizons were explored by the flying club this year. For the first time in the club's history, a group of members visited a large flying club at Cornell. A return visit is expected this summer.

Each year the club makes arrangements with some local aircraft rental firm for the use of aircraft, at reduced rates, for club activities. During the past few years, Central Airways on Toronto Island has been awarded the contract.

As usual the club renewed its contract with Central Airways for reduced rates on aircraft rentals. This contract expires shortly after the beginning of the next term and is valid all summer long. A new aircraft rental company has sprung up on the Toronto Island Airport which is willing to negotiate with the club for next year's contract. As yet there has not been much consideration given to a new contract. However, Bill Kirkland, the president for 1960-61, is well qualified and will attend to the new contract early next fall.

OUTING CLUB ADVENTURERS . . .

Lots of snow for the Laurentian skiers.

Blue Mountain cliffs present a challenge.

Although only three years old, the U. of T. Outing Club has made itself well-known across campus through its ambitious and varied activities. This club, open to any student or staff member of the University, is affiliated with IOCA, an international organization of Outing Clubbers from other universities and colleges in Canada and the United States.

The year's activities opened with a weekend of camping, orienteering, and dancing at Caledon Hills Farm, followed by a canoe trip to Algonquin Park, just in time for the first snow of the season. Later in the fall, a hardy group of climbers, experts and green horns alike, camped in sub-freezing temperatures in the Blue Mountains near Collingwood for the sole purpose of climbing up and down a 100-foot cliff.

During the Christmas vacation, two car loads of Outing Clubbers made the annual journey to the Winter Mountaineering School in the Adirondacks. They enjoyed a week of snow-shoeing, ice-climbing, and skiing at Whiteface. After Christmas, skiing took over the spotlight with weekend trips to Collingwood, the Laurentians, and the Yale Sno-Ski in Vermont. In the Laurentians, the Torontonians were guests of the McGill Outing Club. The trip to the Yale winter carnival proved to be the high point of the year when the Toronto skiers, led by Pete Richardson, Mike Parrag, and Jane Furness, dominated the ski competitions against fifteen other IOCA colleges. For the novice skiers in the club, two trips were made to Don Mills where expert instruction was given by the Ski Committee. The final event of the year was a weekend of skiing, skating, and studying, well away from the confines of Toronto.

... mapping the route ...

... and skiing in the Laurentians.

Outing Club

In addition to these major activities, there were numerous day-hikes, skating parties, and square dances to keep interest alive. And last, of course, the monthly general meetings, featuring folk-singing and ski-movies.

United Nations Club

This year has been an active and enjoyable one for the UN club. One of the keys to success was the ever-present, but not too forceful, hand of organization; more important, though, were the contributions by the individual members themselves.

Activities were many: there were several speakers throughout the year, the most successful being Mr. G. Cadbury, Mr. Bruns Morawetz, and Mr. A. Arountian, the Soviet Ambassador to Canada, who spoke on Technical Assistance, Temporalism, and the Soviet's desire for disarmament, respectively. One of the highlights of the year was the annual New York trip in November which included: a tour of the awe-inspiring UN building; meetings with the Canadian, Indian and Soviet delegations to the UN; and a warm welcome from Mr. Widdington, a Canadian second-in-command of the Visitors Department.

In January, the club assisted in the smooth running of the Inter-Collegiate UN Model Assembly. There the U. of T. delegates to the four-day University Model UN in Montreal polished up on their procedure. The U. of T. represented India and Denmark at this Assembly, made up of many North American Universities, and in many respects led the way. At the close of the Model Assembly, the club played a large part in the conference held to organize SUNAC, the Student United Nations Association in Canada. SUNAC will play a major part in co-ordinating the efforts and activities of the campus UN clubs across Canada.

Club members relax on the trip to the U.N. in New York.

Ask any member of the University of Toronto Space Club what he thinks of the club and ten to one he will rhyme off the old cliché "The sky's the limit". Somehow nothing could be more appropriate.

The campus organization, without doubt one of the most unique at U. of T., was launched late this fall under hard-driving president Burt Morrison, aided by Terry Bourke and Mike Cavanagh. Because Morrison was the only one of the three students with rocketry experience, he was chosen to spearhead the club. With Morrison behind the reins, club membership rose from three to thirty people by Christmas.

Hard-driving Morrison brought a wealth of experience to the the Space Club. Previously he had studied transatlantic cable-laying techniques in Iowa. Later hard-driving Morrison picked up relative fame in rocket circles on both sides of the border because of his backyard experiments with 20 and 30 foot missiles. After 53 failures, Morrison finally managed to send one 110 feet into the air. After this success, he decided to come to U. of T. and take an Arts course.

Morrison was still haunted with the desire to put a rocket in orbit, when he ran across Bourke and Cavanagh. The club was born . . . !

During the year the club's base of operation was the basement of a Bloor St. apartment. There, every Friday afternoon, members poured over plans for the projected model rocket — the missile the organization intended to build and hurl into space.

Finally, just before New Years, work on the club's model rocket began. But unfortunately the project was never finished. Club members tired of the idea, and besides, there was no money and time was running out. It was agreed the whole thing should be put off until next year, when some new blood would be injected into the organization.

University Of Toronto Squadron

R C A F

The University of Toronto Squadron is part of a wider RCAF program in which Flight Cadets from all parts of Canada participate. Under the plans offered by the Air Force, the Flight Cadets are guaranteed at least three summers of employment. This training complements and expands the University knowledge that they have gained in their chosen fields. The students learn about the RCAF, its functions and its role in defence. Furthermore, the Flight Cadets receive training in leadership and discipline which will prove most valuable, whether they wish to remain in the Royal Canadian Air Force as commissioned officers or to enter into civilian employment.

There's a Summer Training Plan for girls too.

Getting familiar with RCAF procedure

Students at the Reserve Officers School,
St. Jean, P.Q.

The University of Toronto Squadron consists of approximately 150 students who have chosen to train with the RCAF during their university years. Entering the Air Force with the rank of Flight Cadet, each student selects a branch of the service which coincides with his course at university. During the summer, he is sent to one of the various RCAF stations in Canada and abroad, where he receives instruction and experience in his particular field; he may be a pilot or an observer, or work in such branches as administration, medicine, telecommunications, food services or accounting.

During the school term, the students meet on Thursday evenings at the Drill Hall, located at 119 Saint George Street. There, under the direction of Wing Commander A. B. Weston and his staff, they hear prominent speakers and see films on subjects of current interest. Upon university graduation, the students are granted a Queen's Commission as Regular or Reserve Officers in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

This year's activities began early in October with an informal get-together at Station Toronto. At the weekly parades, members of the Squadron heard such outstanding lecturers as Colonel C. P. Stacey, former Director of the historical section at Army Headquarters, Dr. C. Baker, experimental psychologist from the Defence Research Board and Professors Dryer, Eayrs and Skilling of the University of Toronto. Topics under consideration included military history, engineering psychology, Marxism and current affairs, as well as air defence and nuclear survival. A visit to the Institute of Aerophysics provided the Flight Cadets with an opportunity of observing first-hand, some of the instructional and research work being done in this important field. Highlight of the season's events was the gala Army/Air Force Ball, held at Hart House on January 22. A Mess Dinner at the end of February, terminated the winter training session.

Under the leadership of a capable executive, the men of Skule had another memorable year. Freshmen initiation, held at Centre Island, began the year's activities. Big social event of the fall term was the Cannon Ball, where the ballroom was decorated with artistic murals composed by the various engineering clubs. The Skule At-Home was held in the Canadian Room of the Royal York Hotel, where music was provided by Len Duke and his orchestra. Highlight of the year for the graduating class was the Grad Ball, also held in the Canadian Room. Entertainment included the famous Canadian folk-singing group "The Travellers".

Skule-Nite 6T0 was a fast-moving, well-written production of which all Engineers are justly proud. Toike Oike and the Skule Yearbook continued to provide a running commentary and a comprehensive resume of life at Skule.

It is worth noting that while Skulemen were active in outside activities, they also attained scholastic success. Four members of the graduation class were awarded Athlone Scholarships.

DEBATES

CLUB

With the words "Friends, Engineers and Country-men; Lend me your ears", the Engineering Debates Club embarked on its most ambitious program in the past decade. An attempt was made to hold one debate per week this year, and if attendance is a criterion, then this idea has met with great success.

A healthy sign this year is that, although the debates which admitted women were well attended, a great deal of interest was shown in more serious topics. This led to a noticeable improvement in the quality of S.P.S. debaters; indeed, several members of the Hart House Debating Team also spoke for the Engineers.

As in the past, this year saw Debates with Nursing, P & OT and Household Science, and the topics ranged from Canadian Women lacking passion to a condemnation of low moral levels on campus. Memorable on these occasions were George White's development of the "makeout factor" for Household Science girls, and Dave Rutenburg's grudging admission that he had been dating one of the "immoral" speakers from Nursing. On the more serious side of the ledger, debates were held with Trinity, as well as several of the other faculties. Topics ranged from religion, with St. Michaels, to Parliament, with the speakers from Victoria.

As usual, the value of debating for the engineer was pointed up strongly in the fourth year job interviews. Those men who could express themselves clearly and logically, those men could sell themselves, were the ones who received the best job offers. One of the interviewers commented that a person with a background in debating was always valuable, for he was used to speaking and thinking on his feet, capability of great value in the executive positions to which most engineers aspire. Special thanks are due to Dave Rutenburg, Vice-Chairman, and Ian Middleton, Publicity Director and all those who spoke in or attended the debates.

TOIKE OIKE

The only way to give a successful recap of the Chemical Engineering Club for 1959-60 is to describe the various events that have occurred since last September. The Freshman Reception gave the frosh their first introduction to life in the smog-filled halls of the Wallberg Building. After an afternoon of climbing stairs (they learned about the elevator later) and poking into labs on the fourth floor, the frosh were treated to coffee and donuts by the Club.

At the Fall Dinner meeting in the Oak room of Union Station Professor MacElhinney proved to one and all that "flying isn't only for the birds". Throughout the fall and spring Paul Avis kept the club members informed and entertained at the Wednesday Noon-hour meetings. In January, Terry Dawson and his beatnik decorators gave everyone a real toast at the annual Nursineering stag dance with the School of Nursing.

The Chemicals like to claim they really won the Chariot Race this year as they say the electrons should have been disqualified for a no-wheels chariot!

CHEMICAL CLUB

Congratulations are in order for all first year students for their hearty efforts. Second year proved that they were a hardy crew by edging fourth year by a 7-6 margin in overtime and 3rd year 5-0 in the final round of the Hockey Tournament.

The Club has had a great deal of success to date and is probably the most active one in the Faculty by sheer number of functions alone. The credit for all this success is due to the enthusiasm of the Club Executive. Paul Avis, Vice-Chairman, organized the noon-hour meetings, found speakers for the two dinners, and filled in admirably whenever the Chairman wasn't on the job. Sam Bell, Secretary-Treasurer kept the club in the black and laughing. Terry Dawson, Social Chairman, organized the two dinner meetings and "Nursineering". Special thanks are also due to the class reps without whom all these efforts would have been to no avail.

CIVIL ENGINEERING CLUB

The Civil Club is one of the federated Clubs of the Engineering Society and consists of all undergraduates in Civil Engineering. Once again it provided extracurricular activities of interest to Civil Students. Technical films and lectures by various speakers, together with the annual Civil Dance and Dinner, enabled students of the four years to become acquainted (crib-wise) and to obtain a broader understanding of Civil Engineers and their work.

The Class Reps, who formed the Club's Executive, put forth a real effort on behalf of their class mates — they announced, collected, decorated, financed and even skipped lectures to see that the Civil students' interests were well represented.

The Club began its 1959 - 60 session by giving the Civil Freshmen a somewhat rapid introduction to the campus through Lab tours, coffee at Hart House, and wanderings through the Library. Four full hours and a total of seven films such as "The Collapse of the Tacoma Narrow Bridge", "Blasting Methods at Niagara", and "Steel Erection" enabled the students to become familiar with Civil work.

The two general meetings held this year were both successful due to the interesting subjects presented by very capable and entertaining speakers (not to mention the abundance of coffee and donuts).

The Civil Club Dance, an informal evening, held once again at the Embassy Club, turned out to be one of the best parties ever enjoyed by Civil Students, surpassed only by those of Survey Camp origin.

The Club Dinner, held towards the end of February, brought the Club's activities for 1959-60 to a fitting conclusion with a fine meal and appetizers, the presentation of fourth year thesis papers and the introduction of next year's Civil Club Chairman.

ELECTRICAL CLUB

The boys and a girl who organize the three hundred and sixty members kept the Electrical Club rolling for another successful year.

The annual Fall Brawl brought a large turnout from third and fourth year (the rest were a wee bit timid) to the Embassy Club. With staff and students mingling on the dance floor, who could say that this did not prove an excellent way for classmates to get to know one another.

The smoker held during the second term brought the drinkers (hard and soft) to the card tables of the 48th Highlanders Club cellar. That is the only room Engineers may rent, although they are fighting for billiard room rights.

The inter-class basketball and hockey games brought amateurs and pros of all years into combat for the G. F. Tracy trophy without serious consequences.

The significant event of the year was the uniting of the local branches of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers with the Electrical Club.

Although co-operation has been good it was generally agreed that professional talks arranged for the Friday morning meetings would attract greater interest in both the Electrical Club and the A.I.E.E. and I.R.E.

The extroverts of the engineering course contributed much time and talent to many campus affairs. Skule Nite, the Grad Ball, The Cannon Ball, the Chariot Race, the Devonshire and Wycliffe affairs and many other events. As the new executive begin to plan for 6T1 let all engineers contribute to their success by giving them their hearty support.

INDUSTRIAL CLUB

As 1960 comes to a close, Club members can look back on another busy "industrious" year. The fall term saw the notorious, glorious, Mechanical-Engineering Business Dance held at the Boulevard Club. All those present were assured of an exciting time. Also in the fall term, each of the classes, except first year, used the time allowed by the school to go on field trips. Needless to say, the companies visited will never be the same. Especially memorable was the fourth year trip to Montreal from which some of the fourth year students still have not recovered.

At the beginning of the spring term, the annual Engineering Business Hockey Tournament was held at Varsity Arena. Players met before the contests to quaff a few ginger ALES and then proceeded to the arena for the tilts between fourth and second years, and third and first years. The winners of these two matches, third and fourth years, then met in a resounding finale. Somehow, the third year team won!

The annual dinner was held this year at the Chez Paree on March 5th. Dr. W. Line of the Psychology Department was the guest speaker. The large turnout was perhaps, the result of the announcement that a bar would be set up.

With the close of 6T0, came the graduation of the final year of Engineering Business. Next year will see the birth of a new Club, the Industrial Club. Skule spirit will continue high and her traditions will be carried on.

The 6T0 Club Executive consisting of Bob Allan first year Rep, Chris Chapman, second year Rep, John Cowan, third year, Dan Brunt fourth year and Jim Beatty, secretary-treasurer. They did an excellent job.

Electrical Club: L. Weaver, J. Brooks, G. McKay, Aven Reid, E. Ashworth, A. Virgin, B. Taras, B. Tannock, L. Wilson, T. Hogenkamp.

MECHANICAL CLUB

Early in the term the Mechanical Club held its Fall Dance at the Boulevard Club. Over one hundred couples turned out to make the evening a success. Prizes of theatre tickets, chicken dinners, records, and goldfish were given out for spot dances. Class parties were popular, with first year having a coffee party before the dance, while third and fourth years had parties arranged for later in the evening. Several members of the staff attended.

Next on the social list was the Cannon Ball. Third year was commissioned to construct a poster for the Mechanical Club's entry in the Inter-course contest. Third year students obtained photographs of many of the Professors of Mechanical Engineering. Cutting out the heads and drawing bodies underneath, a sattelite appeared containing Profs. Hooper and Hughes about to go into orbit. Other staff members were busy on the launching pad helping to get these two off. The poster was a hit, winning first prize at the Cannon Ball, and was presented to the staff of Mechanical Engineering.

A series of noon hour movies and speakers were presented during the year on subjects ranging from "Grand Prix" to "Mechanical Engineers at Du Pont". The Mechanical Club, the ASME and the SAE Clubs co-operated in arranging these meetings.

In an attempt to cut down the 30 per cent failure rate in first year, the fourth year students tutored first year, one night a week.

A smoker was held early in February at the National Yacht Club. Representatives from industry, sales, research, and law including Mr. C. Millar, Mr. C. Restic, Mr. B. Adams were on hand as well as several professors from Mechanical Engineering, Professor Hughes, Dr. Jones, Mr. D. Clough and a large collection of Mechanical students. The panel, moderated by Dick Baker, was supposed to discuss the usefulness of postgraduate studies. In fact, many aspects of postgrad studies were discussed but the most heated conversation erupted with student questions regarding company training plans (absolutely worthless); practical experience (it's getting tougher); owning one's business (try it! It's worthwhile even if it fails); large companies vs. small companies (small companies offer better opportunities). The meeting continued to midnight with students and the panel warming to the questions. Coffee and sandwiches were supplied by the Yacht Club and the cash register at the bar tinkled a happy tune all night. This was certainly a most successful general meeting and it is hoped it will be repeated next year.

Last year, the Mechanical entry in the Chariot Race came in a close second, very nearly scoring an upset over the favourites. First and second year Mechanicals were commissioned early in the term to "construct a chariot", and they certainly did. It was a masterpiece of welded angle-iron and old car parts and it was the only chariot to finish the race still in one piece. However the judges' decision awarded the pot to an entry with no wheels and no rider, both violations of the laws of Chariot Racing.

Back in the fall of 1959, the M & M club prepared for another big year. A few geologists never made it back from the bush, and several members are still recovering from the survey camp, but, in spite of these occupational hazards, a good contingent of miners, metallurgists and geologists did return for the session.

The year began with a marvellous spaghetti dinner for the executive at the home of Jim White. At this meeting plans were laid for the coming year. The annual party was held in the fall, and early in the New Year the M and M dance took place at the Embassy Club. Everyone present agreed that the dance was one of the highlights of the social season — certainly the best club dance on campus. In addition to club activities, the members gave enthusiastic support to all Skule functions, with murals at Hart House for the Cannon Ball and suites in the Royal York for the At - Home.

The club was particularly active this year on the academic side, due to a well-planned and varied program. A series of noon-hour meetings were held in the mining building. Almost everyone attended these meetings, and they proved interesting and educational. So outstanding were they that many Skulemen from other courses attended! Several top quality speakers addressed the group, and the best films available were shown. Rather miraculously, everyone who went on the varied field trips eventually returned to classes.

An ore cart of advanced design and construction was constructed in secret for the chariot race. The climax of the year came with the M and M dinner. At that time the ancient tradition of presenting a rare volume to one of the club libraries, was revived.

Looking back on the year, the members of the executive all feel happy to have received such support from an active and enthusiastic gang of rock pickers.

ENGINEERING

PHYSICS

CLUB

The Engineering Physics Club took its collective nose out of its studies long enough this year to chalk up some outstanding events.

Things got started with a mammoth wiener roast at Henry Noble's farm. The formula: lots of food and a drink + lots of people (half girls) + full moon = fun, was demonstrated to the accompaniment of a determined seven and a half-piece orchestra and loud singing. Soon after this the fourth year went on a five day field trip (with many thanks to Janet Chapman), touring plants and labs at Chalk River, Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec City. A corps of special guides, notably Jaan Liiva and Stan Fromovitz, showed them the sights.

A packed house heard Mr. D. C. Wallis, from Avro Limited, tell of his own experiences in "Missiles and Space Flight", and prove once again that first-hand information is best. A riotous smoker, where second year firmly defeated first year finished activities before Christmas.

St. Andrew's Golf Club was the magnificent setting for the "Physical Frolic", where the members demonstrated amply the skills they have been learning at University. Professor Henderson won the bottle of Champagne, alas, but he was generous with it. A sing-song led by Profs. Ivey and Fraser, both in fine voice, stopped the dance for awhile, and a frantic bunny-hop nearly killed the aging, grey-haired fourth year men.

The Engineering Physics Club chariot, driven by charioteer Dick Jones, ran into Skulduggery on the first turn and placed third in the Engineering Chariot Race. The year was finished up in style at the annual Dinner.

Medical

In a faculty as large and spread out as the Faculty of Medicine, the Medical Society serves a vital function in providing a link between the six years. It is essential to have some sort of unity between the premedical years studying in the arts and science buildings, the first medical year in the Anatomy building, and the final years in the various teaching hospitals of the city. The Medical Society helps a great deal in developing this feeling of unity.

The past year has been an active one for the Medical Society. The Medical Society Assembly, the governing body of the Society, held bi-monthly meetings under the direction of the chairman, Dr. Ian van Praagh. In the last week of September the official Reception and Orientation ceremonies were held for the freshmen of the first premedical year. This three day event included a banquet at Hart House, a dance at the Drill Hall, tours of the campus, and concluded with a successful tour of the teaching hospitals.

The next important event was the annual Medical extravaganza known as "Panacea", held at Hart House on October 16. Once again this was a rather unique evening of entertainment with dancing, Monte Carlo games, athletic events, and mixed swimming in the Hart House pool. Unfortunately the Medsmen were defeated in the athletic events and the prized trophy, the "Panacea-Honey-Pot" was presented to the Engineers.

Early in the fall the members of the Assembly were guests for a pleasant afternoon and evening at Dean MacFarlane's country home. After an invigorating walk in the countryside, they were treated to an excellent meal.

Society

In the last week of the fall term the annual Medical show "Daffydil" was presented at the Hart House Theatre, and many critics commented that this was "the best show ever". The production was a book show with an outer space theme, in which the Russians attempted to colonize the moon by sending up a rocket ship containing their champion female discus thrower and the world's most virile man, a Toronto Medical student.

The Department of Defence of the Medical Society had a surprisingly quiet year with only occasional flare-ups of the traditional Meds - Engineering wars. In the fall the Skulemen raided the Medical building and carried off the replica of the Skule cannon which had been captured by Meds the previous year. However, later in the term differences were patched up and a pleasant social gathering was held with the Engineering Society Executive, following one of the Medical Society meetings.

The annual Medical At-Home held at the Royal York on February 11, turned out to be a gala evening. Later in February the Staff-Student Smoker took place at Maloney's Art Gallery. The guest speaker was Dr. R. B. Salter, who had recently returned from a trip to Africa.

By no means were all of the Medical Society's efforts directed toward social events. The Osler Society held a number of interesting meetings, with one particularly informative discussion on socialized medicine. The Medical debating team was also quite active. Special efforts were directed towards making the Staff-Student Curriculum Committee an active and effective body. The appointment of three interested staff members to this committee made it possible for the student members to discuss various aspects of the curriculum and suggest changes to the members of the Faculty.

The medical politicians began campaigning once again early in March, and the colourful Medical Society elections took place on March 7. The activities of the Society terminated for the year with a joint dinner meeting of the incoming and the outgoing Assemblies.

Canadian International
Placement Service
Officer — G. Brown

The Canadian Association of Medical Students and Internes are experiencing another active and successful year. The Local CAMSI Officers at U. of T. are Peter Adam, IV Meds, Basil Orchard, III Meds, Jean Shkimba, II Meds, and Grant Keeler, I Meds.

The history and accomplishments of this organization are impressive. During its first two years of existence, it studied the incidence of tuberculosis among medical students, found this very high as compared to other groups, and determined the best method of combatting it. As a result, CAMSI recommended annual tuberculin testing and chest X-rays for all students. These practices have since become routine in all medical schools and universities.

Another year, on CAMSI's recommendation, the university final examinations and the Dominion Council Examinations were made one paper.

The association organized and now runs the Canadian Interne Placement Service, which "dovetails" the preferences of graduates for particular hospitals, and of the hospitals for particular graduates, satisfying both the hospitals and the internes.

CAMSI runs a film service, showing to the student body medical films which provide a review for students in the clinical course, and clinical interest for students in the preclinical course.

Another service is the Summer Employment Survey, which gives information on all summer work of a medical nature available to undergraduates in this country.

CAMSI Life Insurance is well-known. It is a group plan which gives its members life insurance protection at about one-half the usual premium. This is feasible only because medical people are a "preferred" or low risk group.

Briefs presented to the Federal Government resulted in the granting of income tax concessions to all Canadian university students.

The association has long struggled with the problem of interne remuneration. A goal of $150 per month plus room and board was stated and approved by the National Council. The value of this figure was set to allow a student to continue his studies without increasing his debts. This has been supported by the Ontario Medical Association and the Canadian Medical Association, and some hospitals have agreed to it. Others are adamant, and so the work goes on.

In Toronto this year, the local committee is showing medical films and providing the Summer Employment Service. It is also working on the problem of limited internships, which, effective this year, would prevent graduates from going abroad for their junior internship. It is also beginning an instrument survey, which sorts the good from the bad medical instruments and recommends those which are adequate and least expensive. Free exam reprints have been distributed to all Toronto medical students.

In the near future, CAMSI expects to increase its foreign student exchange program which began last year with two foreign students coming to Toronto. About ten CAMSI members went to Europe and Scandinavia last year.

CAMSI is one of the most active students organizations in Canada, and although made up entirely of medical students, it has benefited all university students across the country.

Medical Women's Undergraduate Association

It is interesting to note that the Medical Faculty at the University of Toronto is the only one in Canada with a high enough enrollment of women (who now comprise more than ten per-cent of the faculty) to warrant a separate association with representation in the Medical Society and on the S.A.C. of the University.

An innovation this year was the successful General Meeting held before the Christmas Party. It was decided that this meeting should be made an annual event, the purpose being to acquaint the girls with the functions of the Association and to give them an opportunity to voice their suggestions and criticisms.

Every woman member of the faculty automatically becomes a member of the M.W.U.A. on registration. The main functions of the Association are to provide activities at which the girls may get to know one another and to meet and talk to women doctors in the city; to cater to the needs of the women in medicine including common room accommodation and athletics; and to represent them on the S.A.C.

This year the new girls were welcomed, initiated, and treated to a Christmas party. They collected gifts to send to the children at the Settlement House, heard Doctors talk on their specialities and had a farewell party for the graduating class.

Ann-Marie Catherwood was the capable president of the M.W.U.A. this year 1959 - 60.

MEDICAL ARTS AND LETTERS COMMITTEE

This group is composed of one member from each of the Premedical and Medical years.

It acts as a liaison between the Medical Society Assembly and the Debating Club, Music Club, and Osler Society and reports to the Medical Society Assembly concerning the activities of these organizations.

In addition, the committee sponsors the Medical Students' Art and Photography Contest.

The Medical Debating Society is one of the branches of the Medical Arts and Letters Society. Its primary function is to provide an opportunity for those interested in public speaking to take part in debates with other faculties on the campus.

The first debate of the season was with Victoria College. The Vic debaters upheld a resolution denouncing the materialism of the medical profession. The Medsmen won by a division of the house. The second debate was with Trinity College. This time the future doctors upheld a resolution denouncing mercy-killing as legally impractical and morally unjustified. Once again the Medsmen won their point.

The Debating Society prepared to battle the Engineers in support of a resolution upholding the divinity of Medical Students and other debates were held with St. Michael's College and University College.

ART AND PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

Over 40 students from the faculty of medicine entered this year.

The following are the winners: Art: First, Dave Richardson; Second, Otto Viedlinger; Third, Doug Richardson; Photography: Ron Carr, Danny Freeman, Paul Tachahashi, and Doug Mann. Prizes for the contest were donated by Pharmaceutical firms.

Music Society

"Musical Archaeology" was the rare topic chosen by Professor Olnick for the first meeting of the Medical Music Society. With his customary wit, he discussed the first beginnings of music in pre-historical times, up to the more complicated vocal and instrumental polyphonics of the 16th and 17th centuries. The second meeting was of the relaxed, informal type to which each member brought his favorite records. Professor Beckwith closed the final meeting in March in his own humorous style.

M. Nash, J. Clark, B. Bayes, M. Wolfish.

Osler Society

Martin Jerry

Since its inception, the Osler's Society has commemorated the life and inspiration of Sir William Osler with monthly meetings to discuss medical topics of current interest.

To open this year's agenda Dr. William Blatz reminisced about his experiences as educational advisor to the Dionne Quintuplets. Dr. Gordon Bell summarized current concepts on alcohol and drug addiction. In January a symposium on Socialized Medicine was held during which papers were presented by undergraduates. The ensuing discussion was handled by Dr. Glen Sawyer, Executive Secretary of the Ontario Medical Association. In February Dr. Farquharson, Professor of Medicine, discussed his recent trip to the medical centres in Russia. Dr. Boyd-Neel commented on the role of music in medicine. The series ended with a commentary by Dr. C. B. Farrar, Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry, on the life of Sir William Osler.

The members of the executive for the past year were as follows: president, L. Martin Jerry, III Meds; secretary, Jan Roos, II Meds; Social Convenor, Bev. Nelems, III Meds.

This was a year of change for Probe. The context, previously obsessed with things medical, became diversified. Pierre Berton was satirized, skin diving became the topic for a serial article and literary controversy raged over extrasensory perception. The number of pages published was doubled. A magazine - yearbook was produced for the first time. These innovations improved a paper that has grown in stature each year of its short existence.

The credit goes chiefly to the editor, Jim Paupst. His prolific writing and creative ideas were the moving force behind all that transpired. He was aided in his efforts by an enthusiastic staff. Bob Ferrie, the Associate Editor, helped with the make-up and filled some of the gaps with copy. Ron Carr, photographer par excellence, added a professional touch to the look of the paper. Jan Roos performed the difficult task of procuring enough advertising to pay the printer's bill. Jeanne Shkimba never refused to type the piles of written copy frantically presented to her on press day. They were some of the people who gave of their talent and time to make Probe a success.

This year marked the 37th year of publication of the University of Toronto Medical Journal. The Journal also received a gift of the first six volumes of the Journal from an alumnus of this medical school. Some quotations from editorials in these early issues might be of interest in order to see how closely the present Journal fulfils the dreams of its originators.

"... attempting to do something hitherto untried, ... in any medical undergraduate body on this continent . . ." This journal was a pioneer in medical undergraduate journalism and it has led the way for other similar journals which subsequently arose across Canada. As yet there has been no indication of any such publication in the United States. This is still the only undergraduate journal which is published six times a year.

"... writing and preparation of papers should be encouraged among the students . . . to encourage in the students a more articulate spirit . . . the Journal (should be) a more effective medium for student expression . . . The student, also, who begins by reading his undergraduate publication will be much more likely to continue reading periodicals after graduation." The Journal has remained primarily a medium for student expression and has proven itself a valuable adjunct to basic medical education, both in the writing of articles and in learning how to use graduate medical journals, which form the mainstay of the post-graduate education of the practising physician.

"The Journal . . . will carry far afield . . . the name of the University of Toronto . . . an exchange department is a distinct prospect . . ." This has been reaffirmed many times for the circulation department receives requests for reprints from as far away as Moscow.

"It is only by having a wealth of material from which to select that a high standard of excellence can be maintained . . ." The job was not made difficult by having to read an overwhelming number of articles, however, the extra work would have been appreciated had the students been so inclined. In any case, an article which appeared in volume XXXVI of the Journal did win the Grant Prize awarded by the Canadian Association of Medical Students and Internes for the best article written by an undergraduate in Canada. The article was written by Dr. R. H. Curry 5T9.

The aims and problems of the University of Toronto Medical Journal have not changed appreciably over the years. It has continued to be a valuable opportunity for the student, to be a risky financial venture for its sponsor, the Medical Society, and to be both a headache and a joy for the editorial staff. It is hoped that with loyal and conscientious work from future editors, with the continued patronage of its advertisers and, most important, with the laboriously solicited support of the medical undergraduate body the Journal will continue to flourish in the tradition of its founders.

Undergraduate Pharmaceutical Society

Under President D. L. MacInnes, the Undergraduate Pharmaceutical Society had an active and profitable year in many fields of endeavour.

The Freshmen were welcomed to their chosen profession by the President of UPS and the class of 6T2. They had a constructive initiation programme which concluded with a Work Day on Ward's Island. In the fall "Mediscope" was a new word in the students' vocabulary, and the co-operation they gave to this medical exposition was one of the reasons for its tremendous success. For the first time this year, Pharmacy girls had their own Athletic Director, and she was seated on the U. of T. Athletic Directorate as a voting member.

The theme of the Float Parade for Homecoming on October 31 was "University Expansion"—the (?) of things to come. Pharmacy placed third. On November 5 the annual Fall Dance was held at the Embassy Club. The exhibit for Pharmacy Week entered in the National Contest placed second and the faculty was well represented in The Big Blitz on Monday November 30 when over 90 students turned out to support the campaign.

Educational, scientific movies were shown at noon-hour during the fall and spring terms. The Lacrosse championship came to the Black, Red and Gold for the first time in history. The Pharmacy Formal held at Arcadian Court on February 19 was the highlight of the social year. All students look forward with interest to next year when they will be in their new "home" — the Dental Building which is being completely renovated.

The School of Social Work is a graduate School on campus. A master's degree of social work, M.S.W., is awarded after two years and a bachelor's degree, B.S.W., at the end of one year. In 1959 - 60 there were approximately 100 students at the school, graduates from eighteen universities. It is a cosmopolitan group representing seven provinces and four countries. Thirty-two of these students are graduates of U. of T.

Part of the course is spent on academic work: the other part consists of working in a social agency putting the social work theories into practice.

After graduation there are many areas where the social workers can practice, such as child welfare, family welfare, corrections, medical or psychiatric social work, public welfare, rehabilitation services, administration and community organization.

CASE WORK

Social work has five main areas where one can work. Group work, case work, community organization, administration and research. Each student studies all these areas and concentrates in either group work or case work. Group work deals with individuals in groups. Through the use of himself and different program media (as is suggested in this picture) he helps the individuals in their personality growth and change also helps them in their personal relationships with other members of the group, and ultimately in the community. Group workers function in such agencies as the Y.M.C.A., Settlement Houses, recreation centres and recently in many mental hospitals and psychiatric clinics.

Many of the social work students intend to be caseworkers. Case work is a process through which a social worker helps the client work out his problems by using the medium of interviewing. The students work in many different agencies for their field placement such as the Children's Aid Society, Department of Public Welfare, Jewish Family and Child Service, Neighbourhood Workers Association, John Howard Society, Big Brother Movement, and the Toronto Psychiatric Hospital.

GROUP WORK

STUDENT — FACULTY CONFERENCE

The highlight of the year was the student-faculty conference, which was a constructive beef session. In four hours, the students and faculty exchanged their views on every aspect of the school program. This proved to be a most interesting session!

There were many outstanding features in the Wyycliffe College Theological Society this year. Following the practice of previous years, students from Wyycliffe joined by Trinity, the Anglican Women's Training College, the Church Army and Koinonia conducted a weekend mission at Saint David's Church in East Toronto. Fall and spring meetings included such speakers as Prof. T. A. M. Barnett, who talked about his recent trip to Africa, Rev. Logan Varey on his trip to the Holy Land, the Sister Superior of the Sisters of the Church, who described her role in the Church, and Rev. Canon Roland Palmer, who discussed the new revised Prayerbook.

During Lent, noon day services were held in the Chapel with Rev. Canon G. Moore-Smith as speaker.

The highlight of the year was Missionary Night when Missionary Society displays were exhibited, and Bishop Greenwood of the Diocese of the Yukon preached. Missionary Night convenor was James McCullum.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Having won the Reed Trophy last year, Wyycliffe decided to relax this year and let some other faculty have a go at it. The volleyball and waterpolo teams defaulted and no one turned out for indoor track. Half a ton of wieners were left over from the Athletic Hayride. Of the three major sports, soccer, hockey and basketball, Wyycliffe did best in soccer, by winning four out of seven games.

By the end of the season spectators dwindled down to a faithful cowboy wearing a white stetson. The executive may be forced to give credits for watching TV sports.

The MIKE is St. Michael's College official weekly newspaper. Because it is a weekly, it is difficult for it to be a true "news" paper, and this year a greater emphasis has been placed on feature material. Under the guidance of editor, Paul Foley, the MIKE took a firm stand in several of this year's numerous campus controversies. Later Mr. Foley became President of the S.A.C. and the Editorship was given to Edie Smith. No matter who the editor, however, the MIKE worked to serve the students of St. Michael's bringing them news, sports, feature articles, and other items of interest.

Like most student activities, the MIKE is only as good as its participants. A fine staff helped to make this one of the MIKE'S most successful years. Every Wednesday night, come rain, snow, kidnapping, a temperamental mimeograph machine or a fascinating bridge game, the hardy crew showed up to help "put the paper to bed." They worked hard, gained a great deal of experience, and usually had some fun.

The Writers' Group is an informal weekly gathering of students who read and criticize their original literary attempts. These include poetry, short stories, and essays. The best material from these discussions is published twice yearly in the "Gryphon", the college's literary review, which is distributed free of charge to the students of St. Michael's.

Because the editor of the "Gryphon", who is annually appointed by the S.A.C., is traditionally the chairman of the group, these two organizations maintain a close alliance.

Board Of Stewards

The Board of Stewards has been the effective student government of Trinity College since it was created in 1935. Being the executive committee of the College Meeting, it is, of course, always subject to the control of that assembly. However, since the College Meeting is constituted by all the Men of College, it is the Board of Stewards that carries on the day to day business and all routine matters. By consent of the Provost, the Board functions as the Discipline Committee when sitting without its faculty chairman.

To the uninitiated, the Board of Stewards may appear to be one of the most barefacedly undemocratic governments in existence: out of its fifteen members, the chairman and two neutral members are elected by the Board itself; the vice-chairman, who is the Head of College is chosen by the Provost from among the graduates of the College; and the editor of Salterae occupies an almost hereditary position. Of the remaining ten members, seven are elected by "cliques": the Head of Divinity, the Heads of the four years, the representatives of the Literary Institute and the Review. Only the Head of Arts, the S.A.C. representative, and the T.C.A.A. president are chosen by vote of all Men of College.

In actual fact, this system of government has always worked quite well. Because Trinity is a relatively small college, it has been possible to maintain the College Meeting as a place where every Man of College is able to debate any issue at hand. Furthermore, the Board of Stewards can adequately represent every significant group in the College, and act in the best interests of all her members.

Trinity College Review

This year the Trinity College Review entered its 73rd year of publication and maintained its reputation as one of the best student-produced literary magazines in Canada.

Under an experienced editor, an early change of policy enlarged the scope of the Review to appeal to a wider range of literary appetites. In a successful attempt to offer what the editor called "beef as well as ambrosia", the five 1959-60 issues contained material ranging from a Socratic dialogue on racial discrimination to a light-hearted phantasy on undergraduate emotions. There were short stories, book reviews and poetry of high quality, as well as two unusually penetrating "Profiles" of senior professors on the staff.

Inevitably, the editorial board was faced with the difficulties of undergraduate publications. An ambitious plan for an entirely new format was sadly buried during a series of financial upheavals in the fall term. Fortunately, the art editor produced some original ideas for drawings and lay-out which made the Review an attractively designed magazine.

A reduced number of contributions towards the end of the year induced some editorial headaches and extended deadlines. But even under these conditions, the Review continued to publish creative and interpretative writings of a consistently high standard.

1958-59 has been a creative and rewarding year for the Dramatic Society. One of the highpoints in its career was an early production of "Murder in the Cathedral", by T. S. Eliot, in Trinity College's beautiful gothic chapel. It was directed by James Cunningham with artistic sensitivity and understanding, and played skillfully by a cast composed predominantly of new talents. The role of Thomas Becket was taken by John Saxton.

"Sunday Costs Five Pesos" by Josephina Niggli, directed by Vals Echlin and headed by Rodney Archer and Virginia Conner, was the U.T.D.C. Festival entry. Robertson Davies commended the production for its sparkling charm.

The second major event of the year was "Arsenic and Old Lace", ably directed by John Douglas and presented in Hart House Theatre in February. A play of amusing juxtapositions, and combining comedy and melodrama it always seems to inspire fresh laughter. The leads were Jane Ross as Abby, Helen Scriven as Martha, Chris Riggs as Mortimer, and George Baker as Jonathan.

Cette année le cercle Français de Trinity College a eu autant de succès qu'auparavant. Comme d'habitude il a eu six réunions assez variées. Pendant le trimestre d'automne une actrice a lu des contes de Guy de Maupassant, tandis que pendant le deuxième trimestre les membres du cercle Français ont passé une "Soirée Canadienne" chez le professeur Rogers à patiner, faire du toboggan, parler et chanter. La fête de Noël a été célébrée à Trinity par tous les collèges. Chaque cercle a pris part aux divertissements, et la seule occasion de l'année à laquelle les membres de chaque cercle puissent s'amuser ensemble a été agréable. Le comble de toutes les réunions a été la pièce, "Antigone", écrite par Jean Cocteau d'après celle de Sophocles. C'était la première fois que le cercle ait présenté une tragédie, mais la représentation en était excellente. En Mars le nouvel executif pour l'année 1960-61 a été élu.

St. Hilda's College Meeting

Because St. Hilda's is a College and not just a residence, it has its own institutions, of which the College Meeting is the most important. Every student who enters St. Hilda's accepts at the same time membership in College Meeting. At those meetings, administration policy and the financing of all student activities connected with the College are discussed in a spirited and congenial atmosphere. Reports are made by the SAC and EAC representatives as well as other leaders of student organizations. College Meetings organizes the various traditional events of the year such as the Freshie Weekend, Dubbing, the informal initiation of the Freshies, Fall receptions, the Saints and the S.J.S., the two major dances, and Episkopon, the night when the ancient and venerable scribe descends from his abode in the tower at Trinity to chastise, educate and entertain his daughters at St. Hilda's.

The College Committee is composed of the Principal, the Head of College, the resident and non-resident heads of year, and the SAC representative. These students meet regularly to deal with problems of administration and policy. A smaller group, the House Committee, is formed from the resident members of the College Committee who meet with the principal to discuss all matters pertaining to resident life.

Rumour has it that St. Hilda's is a never-changing institution subject to its own established customs. This, however, is not so. Its governing bodies, as already outlined, have evolved during the last five years, and quite rightly take their place among the most democratic and at the same time the most practical, on the University campus.

This Fall, the new wing will open. This wing is designed to house 40 more students and will include a reading room, practice rooms, locker space, as well as somewhat more convenient living quarters for the senior staff members.

St. Hilda's Literary Executive

The Lit. became as egocentric as possible this year. It relied upon its own resources to educate and amuse the group. In dealing with the writings of Jane Austin, Emily Dickinson and Emily Bronte, the Lit. dissected the works from a literary standpoint, as well as analysing further the problems of society, women writers, and many other more intense topics. There were two poetry meetings at which records and live readings were enjoyed.

An evening devoted to Eliot's Murder in the Cathedral was of value as a comment on the November production in the Trinity College Chapel. Mr. John Pettigrew maintained the paradoxical position that grace had to be seen without being represented. The usual problems of the play were chewed over and some interesting resolutions were suggested.

The customary year plays were produced — again with an eye to ingenuity and creative activity. Ionesco's The Bald Soprano amused the college and especially the fourth year producers. Third Year dramatised J. D. Salinger's Uncle Wiggily in Connecticut. First Year invented a musical history that displayed an acreage of musical and dramatic talent. The adjudicators were Professors Gillespie and Davison whose critiques were amusing and interesting.

Sheila Watson, author of The Double Hook read a paper on Swift's satire with reference to the modern tradition of satiric writings. This was one of the most stimulating of the literary evenings because Mrs. Watson's paper, a comment on style and on the female figure in the world of letters. She also dealt brilliantly with Jonathan Swift.

There were two debates of a rowdy nature at the commencement of each term. Their topics covered nature-love and education. The year came to a close with a dinner at which Professor Kenneth Maclean spoke on the poetry of Emily Dickinson.

U. C. Literary and Athletic Society

The past year at University College has been so full of memorable events that one could not do justice in a limited amount of space. Under the able leadership of Fred Zemans and Mari Snyder, the "Lit" carried out the traditional college functions. There was the annual Freshmen Week-end at which no effort was spared to make all the freshmen, including Principal Woodside welcome to the college. The Arts ball was held in the gay and exciting atmosphere of Hart House Great Hall. The Graduates heard an address by Sir Ernest MacMillan at the Graduation Banquet.

Two events probably stand out in the minds of most people around the college. The entire student body is extremely proud of David Helwig and Michael Rasminsky, who wrote their musical tragedy "Katy Cruel" which brought something unique and beautiful to the stage. This show represents a turning point in the history of musical productions at the University of Toronto.

The second of these two events was the Honour Banquet held to honour certain students at the college who have made outstanding contributions in their academic, extra-curricular, and athletic fields during the past year. Other memories of the year at U.C. include Homecoming week - end, when the college float was destroyed, Share Campaign, Blood Campaign, term tests, J.C.R., debates, discussions, overdue essays, library regulations, meetings, and of course final exams.

No doubt for the graduates, the past three or four years have been memorable. May their subsequent years be successful.

Sir Daniel Wilson Residence

A coffee-hour discussion with Finance Minister Fleming calls forth interested debate.

The importance of a residence actively participating in the affairs of the college and university community is generally acknowledged, and this year the Residence Council put most of its talents into further integration with the rest of the campus. The Council President is now a member of the U.C. Lit. (ex-officio). We played hockey with Devonshire House, entertained their executive at dinner, and were entertained in turn. Whitney Hall was invited to join us on two occasions; at a music evening in the Senior Common Room, listening to a chamber orchestra and a string quartet; and at the Dean's Christmas Party during which we performed for them, they entertained us, and we all amused the Faculty guests.

The six houses produced an unprecedented number of parties during the year, climaxed by the Residence At Home on February 26th, with the hall marvellously decorated in a Mardi Gras theme, and Ellis McLintock making sweet music.

Members of the residence have been active in nearly every sport and most of the clubs on campus. Yet, in spite of this, they have studied. A rapidly increasing number of graduate scholarships and fellowships attest to the development of an intellectual atmosphere unobtainable in the great nebulous body of the university at large: the ultimate raison d'être of the Residence.

Victoria College Union

The college term now being written into history has been one in which the students at Vic can take a great deal of pride.

The Installation of Dr. H. Frye as Principal, saw the reins of that office pass into the hands of one of today's truly outstanding scholars and the opening of what is certain to be another bright chapter in Victoria's history.

In September, one of the largest Freshman classes of recent years was welcomed into the college. The Frosh were duly 'processed' during Freshman Weekend and Initiation Week, and have proved their worth as members of the college society.

Student response to the many appeals which crowd in during the school year has been notable; over 400 students were donors at the Fall blood clinic; the Vic turn-out for the door-to-door 'Big Blitz' in November netted a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, which is now resting in the library of Margaret Addison Hall; Vic's contribution to "SHARE" accounted for almost twenty percent (20%) of the University total.

The Social season was highlighted by the successful and enjoyable Howdy Hop and Scarlet and Gold in the Fall term, and the return of the Formal to the campus in January. Held this year in the quiet dignity of the Great Hall, it was voted among the best of recent years.

The Productions Clubs, the Music Club and the Bob Revue delighted audiences with their Hart House presentations of the "Mikado" and "The Big F", while the Dramatic Society made a drama workshop their project for the year.

In the field of sports Vic tightened its grip on the Mulock Cup with another triumph at Varsity Stadium.

The Vic indoor track team are leading the pack in Intra-mural competition and Vic athletics have acquitted themselves well in various Inter-collegiate sports.

These are some of the memories that the class of 6TO will carry with them when they graduate. There will be others of a much more personal nature, memories of incidents shared with one or two kindred spirits, but all of which have a vital part in the almost indefinable — "university experience."

And now Victoria, having accepted bouquets from within and without throughout the year bids her 6TO graduates farewell and exhorts those remaining to continue her traditions.

The Executive?

Let's see what Santa has here . . .

The beautiful new Margaret Addison Hall was opened this year.

FRONT: Cynthia Goulden, Kathleen Adams (Secretary), Miss Jessie Macpherson (Dean), Marilyn Smye (President), Arlene Arnason (Vice-President), Billie MacBeth, Elizabeth Peal.

ABSENT: Diane Jackman (Treasurer).

Impressions of the new Margaret Addison residence: Six storeys of glory with a twist in the middle, two hundred girls spoiled by carpeted halls and kitchenettes, pianos and pink and purple rooms, troops of eager high school girls and reminiscent alumnae "on tour", pincurled parades to the Field House when the water was shut off, archaeological expeditions to salvage souvenirs from the Bloor Street ruins; perfect peace in sound proof rooms until the TTC began to dig in the front yard or the Middle House Four came to serenade; a front door so brightly lit that you shake hands with your date and kiss the porter goodnight.

There are still the traditions, but they are modified: the Christmas dinner and the dons singing, "Three Little Lumps of Concrete We"; ASGA meetings in the library, but one no longer square; "Senior Tapping" the night of the graduation banquet. There are still the traditional exams, essays and overdue library books. Sunday Tea will always continue, and the male visitors will always be panic-stricken at the thought. There are still the Annesley Informals with last-minute decorations, and blind dates on football weekends are still as inevitable as bridge games on the fifth floor.

And still they ask, "What's it like to live in a new hotel?" Margaret Addison Hall may look like a "new hotel," but the spirit and tradition within remain that of a university residence

LIBERAL ARTS CLUB

By making available activities and lectures which are not encroaching upon the other specialized Arts Clubs, the Liberal Arts Club hopes to develop the not-so-specifically cultural interests of the students at Victoria.

One of the speakers, Doctor Knight, presented a paper concerning Science Fiction and Professor Payzant spoke about Electronics and Aesthetics.

Part of the programme consisted of a Writer's Group in which students could read their own compositions and discuss them with a competent critic.

Another group activity undertaken for the first time this year was a visit to an artist's studio.

ABSENT: Gillian Stalker, Brian Donaldson, Prof. J. MacPherson.

DEBATING PARLIAMENT

FRONT: Alexandra Johnston, Dr. G. W. Field, Donna Youngslut, Jan Smith.

The mace was eight times upon the table during the 1959-60 session of the Victoria College Debating Parliament. In the name of progress it was decided at the first debate that, however moonsick man may be, the heavens are his to explore and conquer. Armed with such idealism The Parliament consistently voted confidence in Vic's academic environment, in the ideology of the C.C.F. Party, and in the contribution of French Canada to national progress. Vic welcomed debaters from U.C., Meds, and St. Mike's to dispute with them in their special fields, polities, the medical profession, and love and marriage respectively. For a change of scene, teams of Vic debaters visited the Western U. Debating Tournament and McMaster's Debating Society.

Impromptu debates, held throughout the year, revealed a surprising number of thinking, speaking Vic students, who will no doubt go on to other oratorial triumphs. Impromptu winners were chosen at the closing sitting, when the Faculty provided debaters and entertainment for the students.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

BACK ROW: Anne Harvey (Publicity), Derek Taylor (Treasurer), Alieki Arro (Social), John Rumball (Vice-President), Ted Tory (Business Mgr.), Annemarie Dosch (Secretary), Pat. Bonn (President).
 ABSENT: Bob Hamlin (Associate President), Aileen Shattuck (Costumes), Rich Carson (Stage Mgr.), Dr. D. J. Knight (Staff Advisor).

This year, the Victoria Dramatic Society has departed from its regular procedure of presenting a three-act play, in favour of a two and  $\frac{3}{4}$  part Drama Workshop. "Practical sessions" and lectures are both under the direction of William Davis, winner of the 1959 Dale Award. The practical sessions include instruction in voice, mime direction and presentation of scenes, while lectures cover the broader aspects of the theatre. The workshop also sponsors theatre parties and one-act plays presented at Vic.

The Dramatic Society also functions apart from the Workshop with its program for non-Workshop members: discussion groups, one-act plays and the University Drama Festival entry.

In future years the Victoria Dramatic Society plans not only to continue with the Workshop on a campus-wide basis, but also to present its own three-act plays.

BACK ROW: Roger Perkins, Betty Hughes, Mary Watson, Liz White.
 FRONT: Don McNeill, Ruth Spitzer, Jean Sisler, Jenifer Iliffe, Peter Bonfield.

FRENCH CLUB

The Victoria College French Club has an important place in the life of a great many Vic students, especially those who are taking courses in Honour French. It is the one opportunity the students have to improve their command of the spoken language outside the atmosphere of the classroom.

There it's fun! The students meet on a friendly, informal basis with the staff, entering into discussions, games and singsongs.

Guest speakers, travelogues and skits form the main part of the program. There is always a Christmas meeting with the other colleges, and for the past few years, club members have been proving their acting talents in a short play, presented in March.

Mix typical French food and conversation, and the French professors and students at Vic, and you have the Vic French Club. Bonne Chance!

ACTA VICTORIANA

To say that Acta is the Victoria literary magazine, its purpose to encourage undergraduate creative writing, is only to say that Acta is not the Strand. The going definition of the nature and function of the magazine is to be found in the editor's head, a dark and fuzzy place at best. An editor in Political Science and Economics can, and has, disagreed violently with an editor in English Language and Literature over their respective interpretations of "literature" and "creative writing".

This year English Language and Literature had the upper hand, and the results were pleasing. The number of short stories, poems and reviews turned in was quite surprising, in view of Victorian "apathy". The material indicated writers of promise, but the hapless authors whose works were broken on the editorial rack, or survived only to fall into the hands of the heartless layout crew and printers, may suffer a lifelong fear of the processes of publication. Nevertheless those who participated in the publication of Acta, discovered that it was a fascinating task.

FRONT: Margaret Galbraith, Barrie Leech, Don Cornish, Mary Lowery.

With a new location (under the Gate House tower), an old Gestetner, much sweat, many tears, and but very little blood, the Victoria College Strand went to press a total of fifteen times during the past year. The staff was composed of two EAC reps, a Varsity cheerleader, a football player, a chap who liked to meet people, several charming and delightful typists, Three Blind Mice, and an editor for whom the rest of the staff pleads the fifth amendment. There was a gag issue produced by Gate House, an election issue approved by South House, and an anonymous columnist, in reality the ex-Varsity News Editor. The paper chastised the "card sharks", bewailed the apathy, met a new Principal, and watched as they built a moat around Victoria. Perhaps the events did not "alter or illuminate the times" but at least The Strand was there.

Study groups were the most important of the activities of the Vic Student Christian Movement in 1959-60. In the Fall term the movement sponsored a group which studied Tillich's "Dynamics Of Faith" under the leadership of Rev. Alan McLacklin. In the spring term the same group studied the writings of Camus. In the Fall, Mr. Keith Dixon led other members in preparatory studies for the Ecumenical Student Conference held at Athens, Ohio during the Christmas vacation. In the spring this group turned its attention to "Evangelism and Politics". Meanwhile, another set of students tackled "The Difficulties of Christian Belief" under the leadership of Dr. C. E. Rathe.

Activities of a less serious sort included a wiener roast and an intriguing report by Mary Fraser on the W. U. S. Summer Seminar of 1959.

For those who feel that the song of the last debilitated remnant of the virile class of 6TO is still worth singing, fourth year makes its final bow. The class may not be too large, but yet it managed to display some enthusiasm.

Beginning with the class of the Howdy Hop in the fall, 6TO forced the financial crisis to a successful conclusion, filled the halls with over 800 hopping students, and proved incomparable salesmen in the Soft Drinks field.

After such a fine start, the class proceeded to greater heights with a skating party on the Little Vic Rink, in which the Femmes Fatales handily defeated "Squeeze" Lemmon, "Stunner" Stanley, "Rocket" Robertson, and the Boys. The number of athletes almost exceeded the number of supporters who arrived later for the chicken.

The annual Graduation Dinner, took place on March 10 at Hart House, where Mr. R. Needham of the Globe and Mail addressed the students. An evening of dining and dancing represented one of the parting tributes to the graduating class as they left Victoria in the hands of future years.

In addition to holding a hamburger roast and a Caledon Weekend, the class of 6T1 looked after the October Blood Campaign, sold student handbooks, co-operated with the class of 6T3 in running the Scarlet and Gold dance, collected material for Torontonensis and publicised the year's events in the Strand.

The executive originated the idea of a Class Dinner, which was held in Burwash Hall, and sponsored an inter-year, one-skated hockey tournament at which $75 was raised to support a refugee child for one year.

The executive expresses their thanks to the members of the class for their support, and wishes those who are graduating every success in their chosen careers.

6T2

FRONT: John Page, Anne Williams, Marc Somerville, Judy Caldecott, Gary Logan.

It is generally expected that the class spirit of a year will dim considerably in the interval between freshman frolicing and sophomore sobriety. This is usual; Vic. 6T2 isn't! Instead, the 440 odd (and the word is used advisedly) members of 6T2 retained their renowned "class-consciousness" to carry on a varied program of year activities.

Term began with Initiations — the Waterloo of the weakling frosh and the joy of every loyal sixtytioneer. The classes enjoyed planning these Initiations, both the constructive and the destructive features!

The 6T2 Caledon Weekend was again the best way to start off the Christmas holidays — with songs and "sauna"-ing, skating and sleigh riding, with string accompaniment.

January 29 saw Vic. take over Hart House for the College Formal. The sophomore executive enjoyed working on this "back-on-the-campus" formal and they were pleased that the dance was such a success.

To round out the year, the final 6T2 party was held on February 20. This took the form of a skating party with a dance in Wymilwood.

6T3

Freshmen Week-end in September was the year 6T3's introduction to college life. The week-end featured an introduction to the library which some freshmen have since visited and a preview of the college extra-curricular activities. Initiation week with its attendant "hardships" was capped with an outing to Bolton for a day's hard labour under the benign supervision of the now beloved "sophs".

Traditionally — the freshmen were beaten in the Bob Apple Battle but were consoled with the knowledge that next year they would be victorious! (Beware 6T4). The candlelight ceremony for the women in the Chapel was an impressive occasion. A class party held in Wymilwood in November was well attended. The highlight of the social year was the week-end at Caledon which stretched the sleeping accommodations at the farm to the limit. Seasonable weather and the Christmas spirit combined to provide an enjoyable week-end.

Coaching Staff

A DALTON WHITE . . . SENIOR FOOTBALL

Having graduated in Arts from Toronto, where he was an outstanding lacrosse player, being a member of the Varsity team which toured the U.S. in 1937, Dalt coached football at Port Colborne High for two years, winning the Central Ontario H.S. Championship in 1940. While at Toronto's Western Technical School, he coached football, basketball, and track, winning the Ontario and City basketball titles.

In 1951 he joined the staff at Toronto, and acted as Assistant Football and Basketball Coach before he was elevated to the position of Head Football Coach.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalt White have five children, four of them boys.

JOHN KENNEDY . . . SENIOR HOCKEY

Jack Kennedy graduated from the School of P.H.E. at Toronto in 1950, and has been a member of the staff of the Department since that time. A member of the Blue Football team during his student days (playing end), he has, since his graduation, been Coach of the Intermediate Football Blues and Assistant Coach of the Seniors. He has also directed the Senior Hockey squad for the past three years, winning the Championship in 1955 and 1956.

Jack came to the University after seeing service with the R.C.A.F. and is now the Chief Administrative Officer of the University R.C.A.F. Incidentally, he is married, and has four children.

JOHN McMANUS . . . SENIOR BASKETBALL

A graduate of P.H.E. at Toronto (1950), John has just completed his first year as coach of the Blue Basketball team. A former star in basketball, baseball, and track, he was one of the high scorers for the Blues during his college days. After graduation John coached at Acadia University for two years where his team won the intercollegiate title, the Halifax and District Championship, and the Maritime Senior crown. He joined the Toronto staff in 1952 as Assistant Football and Basketball coach, and since then his Intermediate team has won the college championship twice.

John is married, and has one son. He too is an administrative officer in the U. of T. R.C.A.F. Squadron.

STEVE CHISHOLM

Copp Trophy

In recognition of his fine play throughout three seasons with the Varsity Football team, Steve Chisholm was selected as the winner of the Johnny Copp award for 1959 - 60. The Copp trophy is given annually to the member of the Senior Football team who, in the opinion of his team-mates, is judged the most worthy. Steve Chisholm graduated from Port Credit High School and came to Toronto after spending one year at the University of South Carolina. He performed brilliantly at halfback both offensively and defensively, winning his first "T" three times and being awarded a Bronze "T". This year he was elected co-captain of the team and served as a member of the Athletic Directorate.

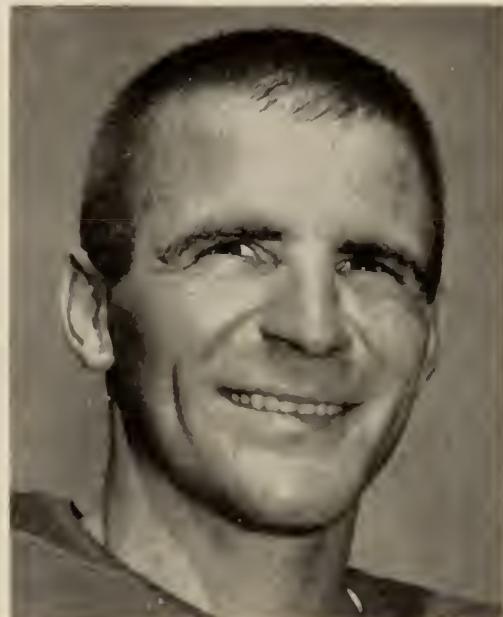

A first class Honour student in Engineering Physics, Steve was one of five engineering students to receive an Athlone Fellowship, which entitles him to two years post-graduate study in the United Kingdom. A first draft choice of the Ottawa Roughriders he will forego a professional football career to pursue his studies. With him go best wishes for continued success.

Biggs Trophy

Pete Potter was the winner of the Biggs trophy, which is awarded annually by the Senior members of the Athletic Directorate to the undergraduate who has contributed most to university athletics through leadership, sportsmanship and performance. Pete, who was also awarded the Potter trophy, as the most worthy member of the senior basketball team, has compiled a long list of achievements in Varsity athletics since coming here from Niagara Falls Collegiate.

He has participated in three major sports, winning his "T" nine times. An excellent sprinter and high jumper he competed in Intercollegiate Track and Field, captured the high jump title in his first year, and was a member of the winning relay team in 1954. An outstanding guard and one of the leading scorers Peter was selected as Captain of the Basketball Team in this, his seventh season. He turned to Football last fall playing at halfback and handling the punting for the Senior Blues.

A second year Dentistry student, Pete acted as President of the Basketball Club and was a student representative on the Athletic Directorate. The Biggs trophy is a fitting reward for his fine contribution to athletics.

Senior Football

"Wait 'til next year!" This cry has been echoed ever since a team has lost a race for a championship; but this year the echoes were longer and louder than usual. One finds the answer to the moans upon observing the league standings.

	Played	Won	Lost	Tied	Points
Western (Champions)	6	5	1	0	10
Toronto	6	5	1	0	10

Western defeated Toronto 16 to 3, Toronto defeated Western 13 to 7; making a total of Western 23 and Toronto 16.

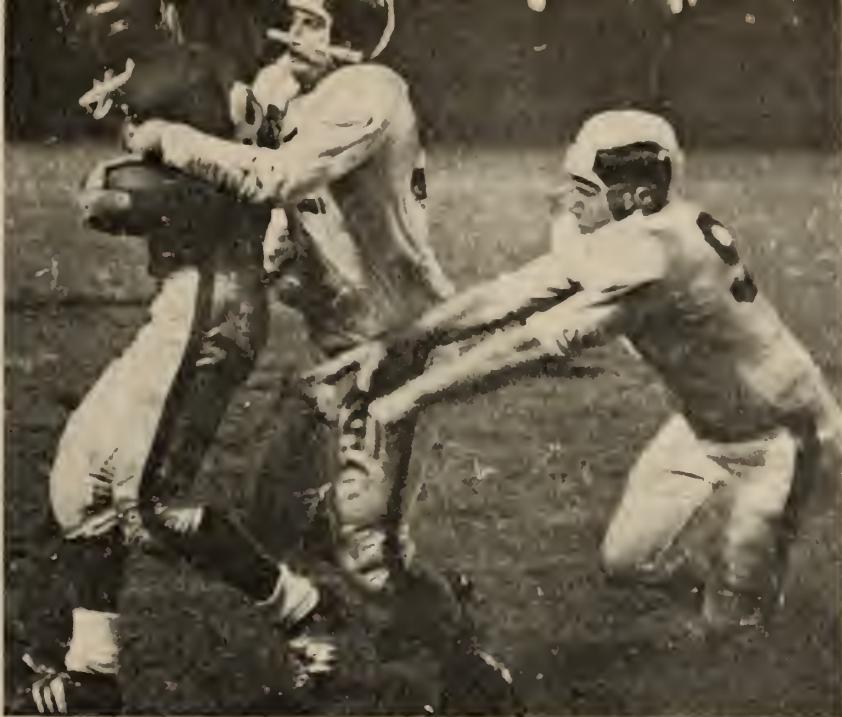

For the first time in the history of the league the championship was decided on a total point basis in two games Western and Toronto played. The usual play-off game had to be discarded due to an extra post-season game, the East-West College clash for the Sir Winston Churchill trophy.

The team, although not as strong as last year's, almost made it two in a row for Toronto and Coach Dalt White. The Blues defense was as strong as ever, but the offense lacked the blistering power of the previous year and occasionally bogged down in scoring territory.

Due to graduation, Varsity will lose such outstanding players as Trevor Eyton, Steve Chisholm, Doug Lougheed, Bobby Dann, Morgan Dever, Doug Jack, Dave Creswell, Bruce Jackson, Brian Bradstock, Bill Bulucon, Ian Knowles, Mike Smith and Nick Sopinka. Many of these players will see action in the professional ranks next year.

Even with the loss of these players the horizon looks bright for the Blues next year as 25 of this year's team members intend to return. An excellent Intermediate team will also provide strong support.

Toronto 25 Western 7

Pick pocket

TORONTO (Sept. 25): Blues walked off with the exhibition opener against Western with a score of 25-7 . . . Varsity's running to the outside proved a big ground gainer time and again. The first touchdown came after a 96-yard march in seven plays, including Bobby Dann's catch for a 54-yard gain. A Western fumble set up the second TD. Bobby Dann opened the second half with a 49-yard reverse to score for the Blues. Mustangs rallied to score their lone touchdown and Blues swept back for their final score. Blues passed and ran 434 yards compared to Western's 363.

Leap frog?

TORONTO 42

McGILL 1

TORONTO (Oct. 2): The Varsity Blues, taking advantage of numerous fumbles and interceptions, rolled to an easy 42-1 victory over the McGill Redmen, scoring 3 TD's in each half. . . . Blues quarterback Nick Sopinka passed well, rolling up 185 yards and 3 touchdowns through the air. . . . Potter converted four of the TD's and added two singles. . . . One outstanding feature of the game was the running of Murchie, McMurtry and Steve Chisholm. . . . Blues total offense was 485 yards against McGill's 91. . . . Blues' winning streak is now 11 games. . . .

Queen's 0

KINGSTON (Oct. 17): Varsity defeated a hard-fighting Kingston team 7-0 despite the rain . . . It looked like the Blues might win 1-0 on a rouge kicked by Potter . . . The only touchdown of the game came when the Blues stopped Kingston on their own 28 and Sopinka passed to Dann for the TD three plays later . . . Both teams were stopped several times on potential scoring drives, the most spectacular was the Gaels' comeback after the TD that was stopped on Toronto's 28-yard line . . . Chisholm gained 118 yards in 16 carries as Blues outplayed the Gaels 322 yards to 199.

Toronto 7 Queen's 6

TORONTO (Oct. 23): Varsity Blues sloshed through the rain and mud to gain a 7-6 decision over Queen's the margin of victory being the single point kicked by Varsity half-back Peter Potter on the last play of the first half . . . in the second play of the third quarter the Blues slithered 47 yards in 12 plays for the TD . . . With time running out, Queen's moved the ball from their own 32 for a touchdown in a dozen plays . . . Blues' quarterback Nick Sopinka played an astute game . . .

Blues' offensive play was a standout with every player blocking in great style as shown by the 227 yards Varsity gained rushing in 55 plays during the game.

Toronto 13 Western 7

TORONTO (Oct. 31): Varsity all out lost the Yates Cup, although defeating Western 13-7 . . . Total score per round against Western is 23-16 for the Mustangs . . . The contest was staged on a sea of mud that passed for a football field . . . Mike Muir went over in the secnd quarter for an unconverted TD . . . Chisholm scored a major in the second half and Potter kicked a single . . . Galgani raced 53 yards to score the Mustangs' only touchdown. On the last play a Western receiver was in the clear but slipped in the mud . . . Total yardage, Western 299, Varsity 246 . . . An exciting game but a hard battle to lose.

Toronto 23
McGill 0

Halt!

Come to daddy

Where's the ball ??

TORONTO (Nov. 6): Varsity walloped McGill 23-0, but lost out to Western in the competition for a chance at the East-West Championship against UBC, as Western beat the Gaels . . . Sopinka completed 12 of 28 passes for a total gain of 227 yards and three touchdowns . . . Ed Rush, Varsity defensive halfback, was a standout for the Blues, who completely throttled their opponents' offense . . . Only once did McGill get the ball beyond midfield.

Intermediate Football

The Intermediates, orphaned this year without a league to play in, and loaded with talent, suffered from both a lack of a real goal and overconfidence, and so lost the first game of the season to a much inferior Western team. The offense did not get untracked until the second half when Hall finally hit House with two touchdown passes, but a missed convert made the difference in the one point loss.

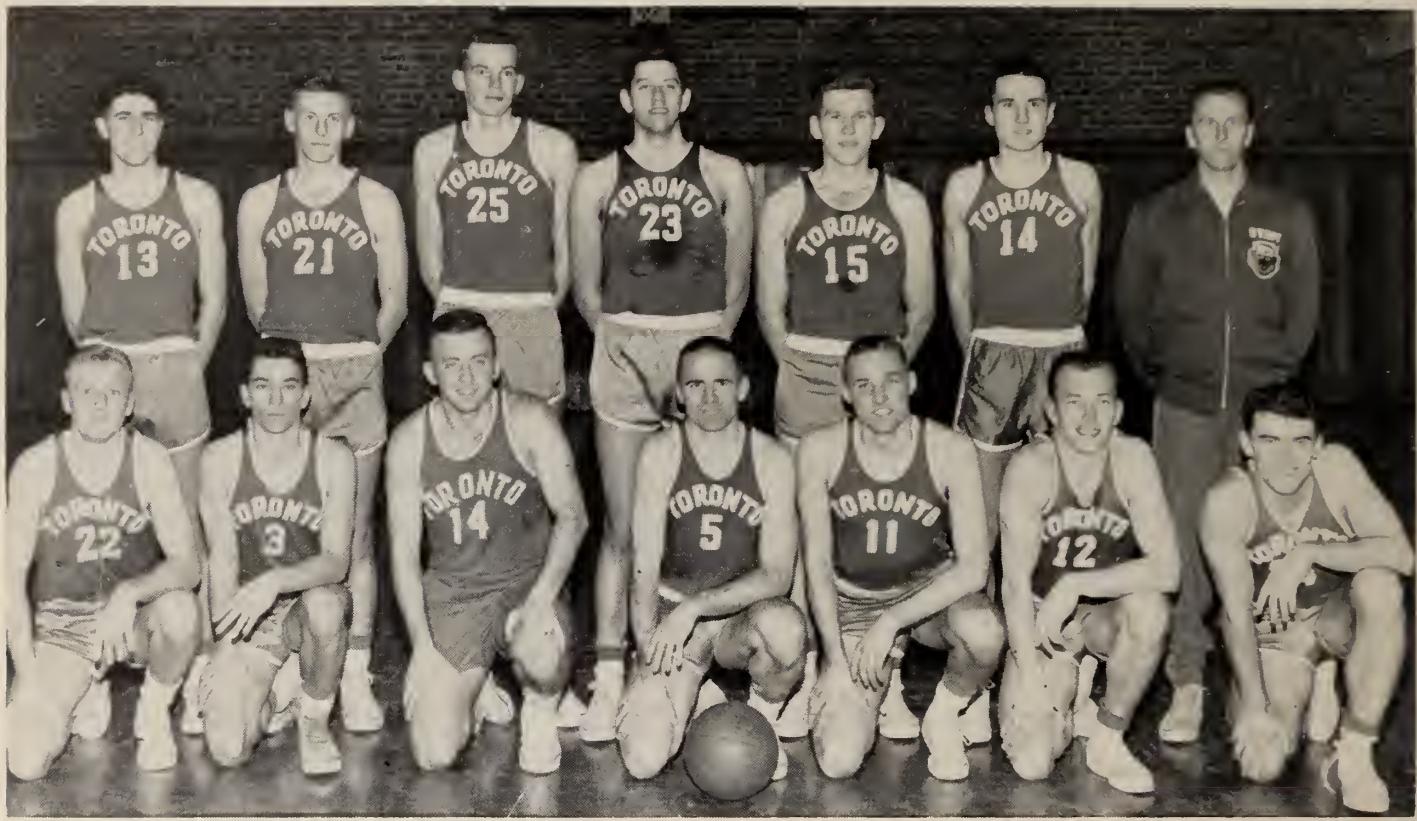

A pair of back to back games with Ryerson that resulted in two lopsided scores in our favour proved that both the offense and defense had settled down and that coaches John Sopinka and Don Johnston had finally moulded a real team. Wright, Hall, King, House, McMurtry and Martiniuk stood out offensively, while Kristenbrun and Bates were the bulwarks of the defensive line, backed up more than adequately by players like German and Lackey.

With only a two day break after the last Ryerson game the team travelled to London and humiliated the champion Colts 32 - 0 in their own Little Stadium. This game was a perfect team effort in all respects, with no one player especially standing out, and a fine tribute to the hard work of the coaching staff.

The 1959-60 Varsity Blues played an 18 game schedule. Included were six American teams — Seton Hall, St. Peters, Iona, Buffalo, Lawrence Tech and Rochester Tech. Their record was seven wins and eleven losses.

In the Intercollegiate schedule, the Blues ended up in third place with a 5-5 record. A 91 - 90 loss to Lawrence Tech and a 78 - 76 win over Assumption were the highlights of the season. Pete Potter, veteran guard, was awarded the W. A. Potter trophy. The Blues were paced by the scoring of Jim Maguire, Mike Muir and Dan Norman.

The 1960 - 61 team will be built around Jim Maguire, Mike Muir and Pete Potter. The addition of Ed Bordas, Gerry McElroy and Joe Druck should strengthen the team considerably.

This was a year of changes in the Senior Intercollegiate Hockey league. Queens returned after a ten year absence and with them came a fourteen game schedule. Laval developed a powerful team and so the Queens Cup, emblematic of college hockey supremacy, left its normal residence in Hart House and journeyed down for a year's visit to Quebec City.

The Blues, at the start of this year, had only five men return from last year's championship team. To this group were added twelve rookies. With this lineup, the Blues compiled an eight and six record in league play, good enough for second place.

In journeys south of the border, Varsity fared somewhat better. Before the Christmas vacation, they defeated both St. Lawrence and Clarkson College while they dropped two games to a strong Michigan Club. After Christmas they travelled to Boston where they won the annual Boston Arena Christmas College Hockey Tournament and also defeated Boston College.

With the end of the season, the Blues bid farewell to their graduating members: Captain John MacDonald, Assistant Captain Harry Neale, Bob Giroux, Frank Sullivan, Bill Griffin, Don Keenan, Howie Roth and Peter Warren.

Next year with this year's rookies being experienced veterans combined with some promising new arrivals, the Queen's Cup may once more return to its home in Toronto.

The defending champion Blues came third in this years team championship, which drew eleven universities to provide the largest golf tournament in Intercollegiate history. The four man team carded a score of 668 in 36 holes of medal play and were topped only by Western with 664 and McGill with 667.

John Erskine of S.P.S. finished in fourth place in the individual scoring with a one fifty nine. Charles Jacobs of U.C. was seventh, while Bill Cuff of Dents and Ron Fletcher of U.C. were in nineteenth and twenty-first positions in a total field of forty-four.

Ron Fletcher was the only Toronto representative from last year's championship team. John Erskine played on the 1957 team while Charles Jacobs and Bill Cuff, both freshmen, were playing for their university for the first time

Tennis

The seventh college tourney, held at the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club, was plagued by rain throughout most of the three days of play. The defending team champions, Western, dropped to fourth place with six points, in a close race which resulted in a win for University of Montreal with eleven points, and a second and third place finish for McGill and Laval with ten and nine points respectively.

The Toronto entry could do no better than fifth place and five points. Joe Anderson of Meds, the Toronto veteran, playing in number one position, won two of his six singles matches for Toronto's only points in this division and teamed with Doug Coulter of S.P.S. for two wins in the doubles division. Barry Fine of Graduate Studies, like Dave McGibbon of Trinity and Doug Coulter of S.P.S., failed to gain a singles point. Dave McGibbon teamed with John Zichmanis of U.C. for the other doubles score.

Toronto took part in three American Indoor Track meets.

At East Lansing, running against Michigan State University, Jan Roos ran the mile in his best time of 4:27.9 and Ken Money won the High Jump. In a dual meet with Eastern Michigan, Toronto placed poorly, with William Crawford coming second in the High Jump and Jim Snider third in the 440 Yds. The story wasn't much brighter at the Buffalo State Relays where Jim Snider came second in the Half Mile with a relatively slow time of 2:03 and Ross ran 4:29 in the mile run.

Perhaps the most exciting race of the year was turned in by the Toronto quartet of Jim Snider, Jan Roos, Nelles Van Loon and Dick Hamilton as they won the College mile relay in the Hamilton Armouries. Snider anchored his team by inching out McMaster's John Passmore in a thrilling stretch run.

The Toronto Senior Harrier Team ran into keen competition especially from McGill's Pete Adams who came first, O.A.C.'s crosscountry A. Hackett, second, and A. Clairmont, third. As a result the team finished a poor third behind O.A.C. and McGill. The best Toronto could score was fourth with Jan Roos. Jim Snider came in eighth and Ed LaHay, a promising newcomer, was thirteenth. In a down-to-the-wire finish Michael Berger edged out Mike Turk, another newcomer with much potential for the future.

During the regular season the Toronto team came up with a narrow 27 - 29 victory over Wayne University led, on this occasion, by Jim Griffen, third, Mike Turk fourth. Against Buffalo State, Toronto won and lost, winning by Canadian rules counting the first four men; and losing by American rules which count the first five runners to cross the finish line. In this race, Jim Snider, a solid veteran, won. Jim Griffen came fifth, Mike Turk sixth and Mike Berger seventh.

Unfortunately there was no competition for intermediate teams this year.

Toronto's highly touted Track team ventured to McMaster only to be beaten by a solid McGill team. However, Toronto had its moments of glory and its individual stars. In the quarter mile, B. Crothers ran a smooth race to win in a time of 50:1 over Fraser of Queens. The half-mile produced a great deal of excitement as Pete Watson and Hudson of McGill duelled for a gold medal in the stretch run.

The winning time was a good 1:57.9. George Rhoden showed some of the form and flash which made him an Olympic record holder. He gained important yards for Toronto in the third lap of the mile relay which Toronto won in 3:26. Ken Money once again shone by winning the High Jump. Two pleasant surprises for Toronto were Jerry Zadiyko who came third in the Pole Vault behind McGill's Whalen and Land and Raimo Repo who finished second in the Hop, Step and Jump. Cook beat out favourite John Passmore who stumbled yards from the finish line.

NATIONAL TRACK FINAL

Highlights of the first All Canadian Track and Field Meet which was held on a cold, miserable day with a poor, wet and soggy field were the longer distance events.

In the mile event Eales of the West and Adams of the Central region duelled for three quarters of a mile before Pan-American game winner Drybrough came on in the final 220 yards to capture the Gold Medal in 4:23.3. Eales avenged himself in the three mile by pulling past Hackett who was the leader at the 2 mile mark and sprinting past P. Adams, the leader, with only one lap to go to win in a blazing final 440 that was timed at close to 60 seconds.

Bill Crothers showed well for the central region as he outlasted Wilson of U.B.C. to gain a gold medal in 50 seconds flat. An excellent time especially considering the poor footing. Cook of Toronto continued to amaze everybody by taking the 120 yard High Hurdles in 16.2.

Pete Watson of Toronto missed his chance for glory by fading badly to Morris of Saskatchewan in a fight to the wire. The announcement of this race was delayed some minutes as the judges had to consult each other before they picked Morris as the winner. The time was a relatively slow 1:59.8.

The mile relay put the finishing touches to some good races. In this race the central region took command with the powerful running of Bill Crothers who anchored the team of Passmore, Fraser and Shepherd to a victory in the winning time of 3:28.3.

NATIONAL CROSS-COUNTRY FINALS

The most inclement weather imaginable did not stop the O.Q.A.A. from inflicting a crushing defeat on their Eastern and Western brethren. Paced by McGill's Pete Adams, the O.Q.A.A. placed Art Hackett 4th; Al Claremont 5th; Pete Johnston 6th to win going away. The West showed some life in the fine running of Henry Glyde and Michael Hall who came second and third respectively.

Once again the Senior Blues had a profitable season retaining both O.Q.A.A. Championship titles, the Western Division laurels and the Blackwood Trophy for the seventh year in a row, and the Eastern title and the T. and D. Trophy for the second successive year.

In their tight ten game schedule the Blues amassed nine wins while suffering one set-back. The individual scores were as follows:

Division	Opponents	Home	Away
Western	McMaster	Won 2-0	Won 4-0
	Ryerson	Won 4-2	Won 4-2
Eastern	U. of West. Ont.	Won 5-1	Won 3-0
	O.A.-V.C.	Won 4-1	Won 1-0
	McGill	Won 5-1	Lost 1-0

(Toronto wins total goals series 5-2)

The team this year was the best-balanced one that Toronto has had for some time. In past years the Blue forwards had been so strong that they alone overpowered the opposition. This year however only three members of the starting attack had played on last season's team. While the new members of the forward line were just as good players as those who had left, it was only natural that they should take some time to fit into the team picture.

On defence the Blues were as strong as they had ever been. All the members of the defence, including the utility man, were returnees. It was this defensive strength which kept the Blues alive until the forwards found the range.

When the team travelled to Guelph to tackle the O.A.-V.C. squad, who were tied for the league lead with the Blues at that time and who had been scoring almost twice as many goals as the Blues, injuries and tactics dictated a shift in the defensive line-up. When the team went onto the field the goal-keeper was the only player in his usual position, all the other five had changed. Despite this the Blues registered a 1-0 victory.

By the time that the Guelph Redmen visited the Toronto Campus the forwards had found the mark and proved their point by putting four goals into the O.A.C. net while the defence kept the Redmen to a lone tally. These two were the key games of the Western schedule, although the other matches continued the trend of the past three years of improved standards of play throughout the league.

In the two game play-off with McGill in the Eastern Division the Blues suffered their only loss of the season when injuries forced them to travel to Montreal with five substitutes in the line-up. McGill won the first game 1-0 but couldn't hold a healthy Toronto team the following week, and Blues took the total goals title with a 5-1 victory.

A few faces will be missing next season but if they can be replaced by players of the calibre of this year's freshmen then Varsity can look forward to another Championship season.

Intermediate Soccer

 ABSENT: L. E. McLean.

For the second successive year the Intermediate Blues finished in second place in their quest for the Intermediate title. Last season they lost on a technicality; this year it was the inability to win the big game of the schedule which cost them the title.

Their record of four wins, one tie and one defeat was run-up as follows:

Opponents	Home	Away
McMaster	Won 6-0	Won 3-0
Univ. of West. Ont.	Won 8-0	Won 2-0
Ont. Agric and Vet. College	Lost 5-2	Tied 5-5

The season started impressively with three shut-out victories, but the Baby Blues were unable to keep up the pace. The whole heart, the half-back line, of last year's unofficial championship team had graduated and the loss was sorely felt. The Toronto team almost had the title in their hands but the Guelph Redmen fought back in the crucial game to overcome a two goal lead and salvage the all-important point.

With many freshmen gaining valuable Inter-collegiate experience it seems that next year will be the year for the Baby Blues, who had a great deal of spirit all year but didn't get the breaks.

Sailing

University of Toronto at last boasts a championship calibre Sailing Team with about 20 active members. They had a good season both in the spring and fall of 1959.

To start the season, Al Rae and Robin Beamish raced in the New England Intersectional at Tufts University, barely losing the Friis Trophy to Bowdoin University 90-92 with Tufts third at 76 and 4 more Colleges down the way. The next weekend, May 10th, Pete and Robin Beamish copped the Phelps Trophy at Dartmouth with the help of a couple of St. Joseph's girls, Hilly Carr and Mary Dillon. Six Colleges turned up for the meet this time,

In the fall the same pair did not fare quite so well, placing ninth out of 13 at the Denmark Trophy Regatta at New London. This was a big one as three English teams were over with eliminations on this side. This fall, however, the Sailing Club got an active program underway due to Queens City Yacht Club who lent the club their boats. On October 26 the season closed with Toronto marching over the five other contestants. Out of twelve races, Toronto's Al Rae and Charles Grant, with Larry Smith and Chris Chapman as crew, ran up ten firsts, a second and a third. Queens was second with Assumption, Waterloo, Osgoode Hall and R.M.C. in that order.

Thus ends a fairly active season and a good one for the sailing types. May the club do as well next year.

The University of Toronto Senior Rugger Blues won the intercollegiate championship for the first time in ten years, defeating McGill University Redmen 8-6 in a hard-fought two-game total-points series.

The Varsity team last won the Gilbert Turner Trophy in 1949. McGill won it the following year and has held it since that time.

The Blues played the first game of the series this year in Montreal in October, surprising the McGill crowd with a rousing 8-3 victory. It was a fast, fierce-tackling contest in which the Blues' forward pack dominated play and time and time again won the ball to force the play to the Montreal goal-line. All the points were scored by the forwards — a try by second-row Barry Reed, converted by wing-forward, Ray Cornbill, and a long penalty goal drop-kicked by wing-forward, Neville Nankivell, Australian graduate student who captained the side for the 1959 season.

McGill scored on a penalty goal but didn't cross the Blues' line as the Varsity backs excelled in defence with crashing tackles and some fine touch-line kicking by vice-captain John Brebner at fullback.

The second game of the series was played in mud and rain on the Varsity back campus with the McGill lineup strengthened by a couple of regulars who had been sidelined at Montreal.

There was no score in the first half as both teams came close to scoring but were stopped inches from the goal-line. McGill scored a try midway through the second half after a wild Varsity pass was fumbled in the end zone and recovered by a Redman. The convert attempt, kicked from an angle, missed and Blues gave every effort in some desperate defensive play to hold on to the slim, two-point lead and the championship.

What the match lacked in finesse and classic movements — almost impossible in the pouring rain and on the sloshy field — it made up for in a rugged defensive battle. Two Varsity players suffered broken noses, but stayed on the field (no substitutes allowed in rugger!) and McGill rushes were cut down by the unflagging, determined Blues.

The Varsity champions were a blend of native Canadians and overseas students from the United Kingdom, South Africa and Australia. Most of the overseas players intend to stay in Canada.

Promising sign was the number of Canadians on the senior team — seven in all. Previous Varsity teams have been made up almost entirely of students who learned the game before coming to Canada.

The intercollegiate champions: Forwards — Jim Dunsmuir, Paul Chapman, Doug Bosomworth, Barry Reed, Leo Colman, Bill Nelems, Ray Cornbill, Neville Nankivell (Capt.); backs — John Brebner (v. capt.), John Cottenden, George McKay, Julian Valance, Colin Barnes, Bill Chadwick, Shawn Buckley, Hugh Johnston; Reserves — John Dean, George Sitwell; Manager — Paul Carver.

The Blues, co-holders of the 1958 Ontario intermediate A league championship, were promoted for the 1959 fall season into the Senior A league — Eastern Canada's top rugger loop.

The competition here was somewhat stiff for the students, who lost all but a post-season exhibition match against Toronto Scottish. The losses, though, were all fairly close — two of them by five points and less. The club's target was the intercollegiate title and the league games suffered.

However, the Blues acquitted themselves well and most observers agreed that lack of experience against the more-veteran league teams proved the margin of victory, plus a couple of unfortunate injuries in early stages of two games.

The Varsity Club is giving serious thought to withdrawing from league play to concentrate on competition in an expanded intercollegiate loop that would include teams from OAC, Guelph, Queen's University, Kingston, and University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The Intermediates provided the replacements for the firsts, weakened by injuries during some parts of the season.

Promising freshmen members of the Intermediates were Robert Turner and Harry Nicholson. Experience in the team came from veterans such as Paul Carver, George Sitwell and Fred Johnston.

Badminton Champions

P. M. Wendling, D. E. Laird, Casey Wood Jr. (Doubles Champion), R. B. Lundy (Singles and Doubles Champion).

The University of Toronto captured the Senior Intercollegiate badminton team championship at Thames Hall, University of Western Ontario in a masterly manner.

The Blues won all of their 24 matches against McGill, Queen's, Assumption and Western.

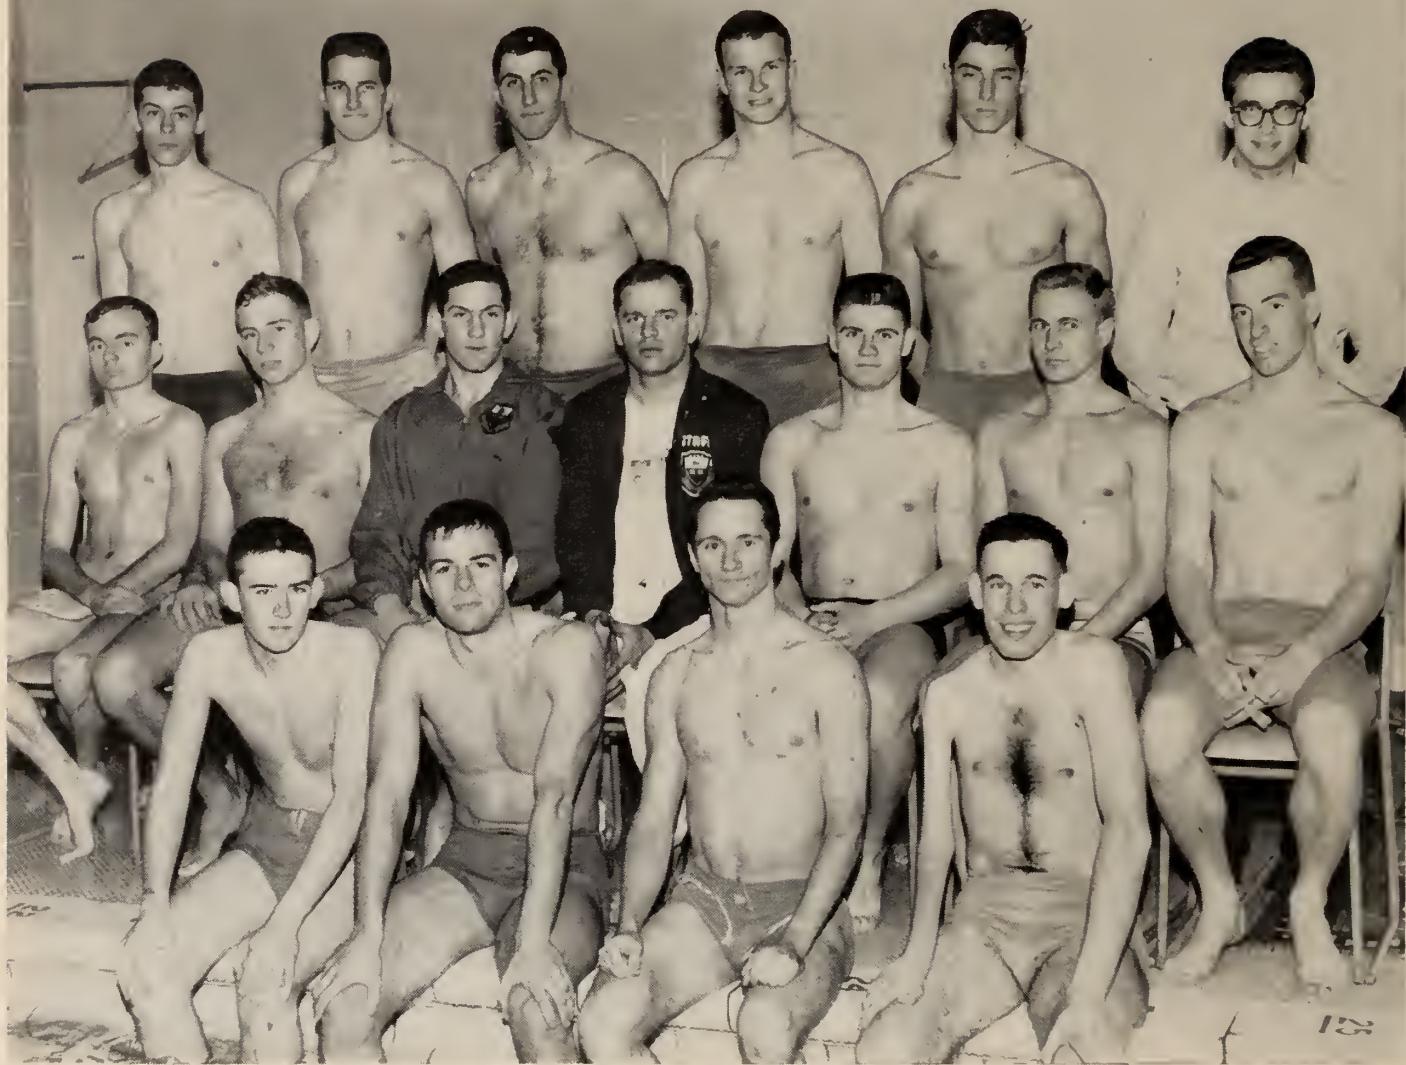

Ross Lundy of Vic played in number one position and teamed with Casey Wood of Trinity, the number three singles player, to make up the top doubles team. Paul Wendling and Don Laird, playing two and four in singles, worked together as an all Engineering doubles combination.

Ross Lundy played the role of triple champion, winning the singles crown and teaming with Casey Wood for the doubles. The other three players were members of last year's second place team which finished two points back of Queen's, the 1958-59 champions.

Congratulations to each team member. A better performance was impossible.

This was the year that University of Toronto lost the Canadian Intercollegiate Swimming Championship. However, it is doubtful that future teams will be as easily defeated. With such promising freshmen as Marv Chapelle, Pete Richardson, Kit Moore and regular members as Al Ashenhurst, Bob Fisher, George Huovinen, Gary Logan, Dave McIntyre, Wally Unger, Kirk Thompson, Ernie Wilson, Joe Jany and Harvey Armstrong, Varsity is well supplied with swim talent. Veterans John Deacon, Alex Chiu, Ron Walbank and Bill Yorzyk should return to make Toronto a threat next year.

Toronto lost both dual meets. McGill won the championship at Western University; but the Toronto team showed a great improvement in their narrow defeat during the second engagement. Varsity swimmers won the meets against Niagara University and McGill, held at Hart House this season, despite record-breaking performances by McGill swimmers Cameron Grout and Richard Pound.

In the Intercollegiate Championship, the team had depth but not enough power to win against Western. Bob Fisher was the only U. of T. swimmer to win his event. Gary Logan won the Diving Championship for Toronto. Second place finishers were divers Wally Unger, Marv Chapelle, Bob Fisher and George Huovinen.

Coach Marius Van Nooten was pleased with the fine development and improvement which his swimmers showed as the season progressed. Marius has done a great deal to improve the freshmen swimmers and has also assisted future U. of T. swimmers in his spare time.

Waterpolo

BACK ROW: H. E. Nobert (Mgr.), J. D. Harper, J. S. Jany, R. Bodden, J. C. Odell, W. F. Clayson (Coach).

FRONT: M. D. Chapelle, W. Unger, D. Berger, G. Watkin, W. P. Rollason.

ABSENT: A. Benedek; S. Harangozo.

With only four members returning from last year's team, Coach Warren Clayson was faced with the tough task of forming a contender for the Herschorn Cup emblematic of Intercollegiate Waterpolo supremacy.

A good turnout of new talent plus better practice hours made the outlook bright. Pre-season games with the Y.M.H.A. and Hungarian Waterpolo Teams produced great improvement in ball handling, especially among newcomers like speedsters Walt Unger and Marv Chapelle.

However, the first game with McGill produced sad results. The team, set back by the stamina of the McGill players, was forced to throw away many good scoring opportunities by poor shots. After holding the Redmen to a slim lead the overbalance of endurance displayed itself in the final minutes of play when McGill scored four fast goals to win the first game 9 - 4.

In the home pool the second game was much better played but the five point deficit was too much to overcome and the game was only tied, giving McGill its sixth consecutive title by a score of 19 - 14.

With only two members leaving, the outlook for next year is better. Possibly with more conditioning the team will show its superiority.

Gymnastics

Anyone who passes through the Upper Gym on Tuesday or Thursday nights will probably have noticed the Gymnasts hanging on bars or working out in a corner on the low bars. It is the fate of gymnasts to have to work hard just to keep in shape. Gymnastics is a demanding sport and probably requires more of a student's time than most other athletic activities.

Toronto did not have a large group of top gymnasts this year but those participating were tough and won all meets entered. Pal, Brooker, Wyse, Zob and Gregory were able to execute some very beautiful and difficult exercises. G. Pal and B. Brooker cleaned up the Intercollegiate Meet and took first and second in all six events. Pal placed first in the Meet and Brooker second. The whole team performed well.

Gymnastics is a valuable and interesting activity because it demands the utmost of its participants. However a good gymnast obtains much satisfaction in the achievement of difficult manoeuvres and also earns a high degree of physical fitness.

BACK ROW: F. Gormek (Coach), B. C. Gregory, G. Pal (Individual Champion), J. W. Wyse.

SEATED: J. George.

ABSENT: B. H. Brooker, A. P. Zob.

Wrestling

H. L. White (Mgr.), W. P. Polito, M. H. Flancman, K. J. Brown (137 lb. Champion), H. E. R. Brown (191 lb. Champion), J. P. Stephenson, H. Cooke, J. Fama, K. A. W. Wipper (Staff Member).
ABSENT: J. L. Amos (Coach), F. K. Ledvinka.

This year the Wrestling Team had a moderately successful season and managed to wind up in third place in the Intercollegiate Championships behind Western and O.A.C. Although Coach Jack Amos had an enthusiastic turnout at practices, the team was hampered by a lack of experienced men.

During the year meets were held in Niagara Falls, O.A.C. in Guelph, and Buffalo before the championship bouts at Queens in Kingston. The home meets were highlighted by tournaments against Western and Rensselaer Tech. from New York. Unfortunately during the season, ineligible men had to be used to make up a full team and thus the Varsity squad ended with a record of two wins and four losses in these tournaments.

In the final meet for the Porter Trophy and the Intercollegiate championships, Toronto had four finalists and two championships. Ken Brown won the 137 lb. division title and Herb Brown took the honours in the 191 lb. class. Bill Polito performed very well and missed the 147 lb. championship by a mere two points. Joe Fama, 123 lbs and John Stephenson at 130 also captured second places in the Intercollegiate Championships. Marv Flancman, Hugh Cooke and Frank Ledvinka also made worthy contributions to this year's dual meet and tournament competitions.

Next year the team is looking forward to recapturing the title it lost this year. The prospects look bright with the return of such stalwarts as Red Carrow, Rodger Doner and Don Shepley.

Coach Jack Amos assisted by managers Harry White and Arky Uditsky conducted a worthwhile High School Invitational Meet. Such competition and experience will inevitably influence a high level of performance at the Intercollegiate level.

Squash Champions

Any group of men who travel as far, or play as long as the University of Toronto Squash team must be 'happy in their work'. This year was no exception. The squad, between October and March, played League matches, tournaments, tours and the Intercollegiate Championship with consummate grace and increasing ability. The latter, if not the former, can be attributed to Ralph Rimmer, whose first principle is to teach not just by having his pupils do what he says, but also what he does.

A year in which Toronto lost the Intercollegiate championship, won at great effort last year, can't be counted wholly good in terms of results. Yet the team (Morley Smith, Harry Malcolmson, John Ireton, John Gorham and Keith Acheson) has no reason to be ashamed of losing the most closely contested Intercollegiate Championship ever played. One match, indeed one point, separated McGill and Western, with Toronto only one match behind Western.

This year Toronto won the Ontario team championship for the first time. The winning team was made up of the above mentioned players except that Roger Proctor replaced Keith Acheson.

BACK ROW: J. H. Ireton, R. Proctor, J. R. Rimmer (Coach), H. A. Malcolmson, J. W. Gorham.
FRONT: K. A. Acheson, L. M. Smith.

Curling

The U. of T. Curling Club made arrangements with the Tam O'Shanter Club to hold a round robin in order to choose two rinks for the tournament. Eight colleges competed this year with Osgoode Hall acting as host.

The following men composed the U. of T. rinks: G. T. Johnson, J. P. Stronach, G. R. Morrissey, C. A. Keith, K. L. Ingo, J. S. Elder, E. L. Donegan, P. A. Burns.

FRONT: K. L. Ingo, J. P. Stronach, G. R. Morrissey, G. T. Johnson (Skip).

Fencing Champions

For the sixth consecutive year, the Fencers won the Intercollegiate Championship by defeating McGill and the University of Montreal with scores of Toronto 36, McGill 25 and Montreal 20. Sandy Bell won the Foil championship; while Fry and Nagy of McGill won the sabre and épée respectively. Two meets were scheduled with Rochester Tech, but the trip to the States was cancelled due to weather conditions.

BACK ROW: W. S. Greaves, Jr., M. C. Bell, J. Alpar (Fencing Master), J. A. Bell (Foil Champion), R. G. Rice.
ABSENT: M. Nash.

Ski Team

This year there has been perfect skiing weather. However there was too much snow in Montreal — the Intercollegiate Championships were scheduled for McGill February 19th and 20th, the date of Montreal's biggest snow storm! The jumping, downhill and slalom were completed, but it was impossible to run the downhill event. Hence no Team Championship could be declared.

Coached by Bill Beck, the Toronto Ski Team competed in various meets in Ontario, and individual members did exceedingly well and got in some good practice sessions for the championship meet. The team was composed of Mike Brebner, Pete Barton, Nils Semb, Pete Hamilton, Raimo Repo, Fred McNutt, Roger Dunkin and Captain Bob Galway.

BACK ROW: M. J. Brebner, F. M. McNutt, R. Repo.
FRONT: P. G. Barton, J. R. Dunkin, N. Semb, P. Hamilton, R. D. Galway.
ABSENT: W. G. Beck (Coach).

FRONT: M. J. McManus, O. C. Hutchison (135 lb. champion), Tony Canzano (Coach), A. J. Vachon (130 lb. champion), V. Spring (140 lb. champion).

The U. of T. boxers, under the capable coaching of Tony Canzano, won the Intercollegiate title for the third straight year. The meet, held at McGill, was a good one, and the Blues captured six championships of the nine weight classes. Art Vachon, was the 130 lb champion for the third time, and won his Bronze T. Ozzie Hutchison at 135; Val Spring at 140; Tom Aman at 145; Bob Turner at 155 and Emmett Neary at 175 were the final winners in the tournament, with Bob Dodds and Jim McManus the two other team members. This year Toronto had no heavy weight competitor.

Forestry Athletics

Soccer: Over the past five years Forestry has been able to boast of three championship soccer teams, one finalist team, and one semi-finalist team. This year the "Big Green Team" did it again, capturing the division title by defeating Knox College 3-1.

The Forestry football team gained more bruises than feathers but kept bouncing back for more. The team is improving. A touchdown was scored!

All, three basketball teams looked very strong. An improved "A" team won its first two games, the "B" team won one and lost one, and the "C" team won its first two games. Hopes are high for championships and a big bundle of Reed Trophy points.

The "A" team was successful in four out of the six regular games. The two losses were to a strong Emmanuel contender who beat out the "A's" in the semi-finals. The "B" team burned up its league, winning all six games.

The "Green Fish" were at it again, with only one loss to those slippery magistrates. Forestry and Law tied for first place. Another meeting with other teams in division II remains but the future looks promising.

In 1959 Rod Carrow gained the Canadian light-heavyweight championship and the Inter-collegiate 177 lb. championship. Then, last September 5, Rod was awarded a silver medal signifying second place standing in the light-heavyweight class in the Third Pan-American Games. Al Pawis joined Rod on the year's Varsity team. Al won the interfaculty 147 lb. class and thus earned himself a spot on the Varsity team.

Forestry gave sound support to the Varsity Ski Team. Fred McNutt won renown as a senior skier in the cross-country, jumping, slalom and the downhill events. Pete Barton won the Southern Ontario junior cross-country. It is hoped that Carl Lovenskiold will be back in the suicides next year —a real contender.

Medicine

The 1959 - 60 academic year has been very successful for athletics in the Faculty of Medicine. The aim of the Medical Athletic Association is to get as many students playing as many sports for the most enjoyment, as possible. The result of this aim is that Meds was a very hot contender for the T. A. Reed Trophy.

Meds enjoyed a successful season in football under Gord Nicholl as coach. The spirit on the team was good, and for the first time in several years there were many more players than could dress each game. Although the team was edged in the Quarter finals it played an interesting brand of football, led by Hugh Paterson, Dave Fear and Dick Charron.

Track and Tennis shared the spotlight in the fall term as Meds won its first Track title in many years and was edged by one point for the Tennis laurels. Joe Anderson won the individual tennis title and Jan Roos, George Rhoden, and Jerry Zadiyko were standouts in track and field.

The minor league Volleyball title was won by a IV'th Meds class team for the third consecutive year. The team was led by Howie Donsky, Gerry Shugar and Irv Rosen. This team defeated another fourth year Meds class team in the Volleyball finals.

The Senior Waterpolo and Basketball teams did not fare too well as many of the stalwarts graduated last year. However, teams in the junior years showed great promise and should be real contenders in the future. Hockey is on the upswing again after four years of losing teams. The senior team was undefeated in its first five starts but was not able to continue at this hot pace in the playoffs. Barry Cutler, Al Hart, and Pete Kopplin were standouts on the team.

Meds captured second place in the Intramural Swim meet due mainly to the efforts of Joe MacInnis, Bill Yorzyk, Wally Unger, John Gossage and Alex Ashenhurst. Squash showed increased popularity again in the faculty with 36 entries in the Meds Tournament. Main contenders for the James Kineer Trophy were Shelly Schiller, John Ireton, Sam Malcolmson, and Morley Smith.

Championship awards, Special awards and Medical First Colours were presented at the Annual Banquet of the Medical Athletic Association held on March 16, 1960. The winners of the Executive Keys were Peter Wyshynski, Glen Taylor and Shelley Schiller. Dr. Paul McGahey was the guest speaker and Prof. R. F. Farquharson was presented with an Honorary Award on his retirement as Professor of Medicine.

With the brand new executive elected this spring Medical athletics should be off to a good start next year. The outgoing executive wishes them every success in the future.

Victoria College

The year 1959 - 60 has been a memorable one in athletics at Victoria College. All teams made exceptionally fine showings in their respective sports. At the same time the goal of the Executive to reach a higher standing in the race for the T. A. Reed Trophy was attained. Victoria did considerably better in this competition than last year.

The powerful football team brought home the Mulock Cup, for the nineteenth time this year and climaxed the season by trampling Trinity 50 - 0 in the final game. Later in January the Board of Regents of Victoria University gave the team a dinner at the National Club. This occasion showed vividly the intimate historical connection that exists between Victoria and the Mulock Cup.

The triumph of the football team only slightly overshadowed the spectacular showing of Victoria's track team, led by ace, Jim Snider. The Larrier team won the inter-mural championship, while the outdoor track team placed third. However, it was the indoor track team that provided most of the glory by dominating the meets throughout the season. The soccer, squash and waterpolo teams also did well, with the soccer team finishing the season as the division leader. However the performances of Victoria's hockey teams were somewhat disappointing.

The 1959 - 60 Executive has good reason for pride and satisfaction in the accomplishments of Victoria's various teams during the past year. However still further pride and comfort comes from a perusal of the future in which, it is hoped, Victoria's athletics will shine with even greater brilliance.

Pharmacy

The '59-60 Sports season at last saw success follow Pharmacy's femmes. Three of four firsts fell to the "Phlashing Pharmacists".

Teams to lead their league were the softball team, with six victories and no defeats; basketball, also undefeated, and hockey, which was not only undefeated but also unscored upon. The volleyball team, not quite so successful, had to settle for second spot as it split its games in the regular schedule.

In competing against teams from the higher leagues in the play-offs, the feminine pharmacists were less fortunate. The softball team was eliminated rather easily by a strong Vic I team and the basketball girls ran into medical troubles.

In their own league hockey playdowns the fighting pharmacists managed to maintain their unbeaten, unscored upon record by defeating St. Hildas' Saints 2 - 0. The only other word on this subject is that "Pharmacy's Got High Hopes"!

BADMINTON CHAMPIONS

With an enthusiastic cheer, the Scarlet and Gold athletes of the female variety plunged into another season of inter-faculty sports. This year, as in others, Vic fielded a full contingent of teams in all the major sports and most of the minor ones. Participation was boosted with the added incentive of the new Women's Athletic Building which many Vic types helped to "break in".

In the fall two softball teams struggled valiantly but in vain in Varsity Stadium; their spirit and determination were not enough to prevent them from succumbing to the elements and some stiff competition. Playing under slightly better weather conditions (inside W.A.B.) the four hard working college basketball teams did their best but went down to defeat, the Freshies reaching the finals before bowing to P.H.E.

Vic's first interfaculty championship came on the gridiron as the "big red machine" flattened the opposition in the annual football wars. To commemorate this fourth unofficial "touchball" championship, Vic donated a trophy for future league competition — with hopes that it will stay in the hands of Victoria for some time to come.

In February long hours of gruelling practice gave the Vic mermaids, led by Joy Sinclair and Joan Tait, a second place tie with Nursing in the Varsity swim meet, and a sixth place in the diving. In other second term athletics the four volleyball teams stood well in their respective leagues, the I's and IV's each sharing the lead in their own schedules. In hockey the Vic I's, spirited by Laurann Van Valkenburg and Mary Ellen Anglin, captured first place and are headed for another interfaculty championship. To complete the winter sports scene four skiers, led by Helen Weider, carried Victoria's colours into the interfaculty meet.

Vic sportswomen finished the year with their annual Athletic Banquet in March and the presentation of awards and colours for the '59 - '60 season.

President's Message

PRESIDENT
CLAUDE T. BISSELL
M.A., Ph.D.

To the Class of '60

I congratulate you all in the name of the University upon your success in your work here, and I wish you well in your chosen field of activity in the years to come.

Every age, I suppose, is an age of opportunity for those who are young and energetic, and the present age is certainly no exception. There have always been changes, welcomed, on the whole, by the young and deplored by some of the old. What makes the present time so extraordinarily interesting is not simply the changes but the increased rate of their acceleration. The years which you have spent in college, for instance, have seen the invasion of outer space, the winning of a victory over poliomyelitis, the progressive awakening and ambition for nationhood of much of the world, the developing of nuclear devices both for weal and woe, the industrialization of China, the internal achievements of the Russians in raising their standard of living, the use of electronics for such diverse ends as faster mathematics and better music, the swing of North American education towards a more disciplined pattern, and the progress towards establishing banks of 'spare parts' of the human body.

In many ways, this is a new world that awaits you. But it is also an old world that poses the same fundamental problem. That problem was put into spare and clear words by Ralph Waldo Emerson, over 100 years ago;

There are two laws discrete,
Not reconciled, —
Law for man, and law for thing;
The last builds town and fleet,
But it runs wild,
And doth the man unking.

There is a new and terrible urgency now in the clash between the two laws. The 'law for thing' threatens not merely to dethrone man; it threatens to destroy him. It is the function of the University, and of her graduates, to redress the balance, to proclaim and to demonstrate the primacy of the 'law for man'. Whatever work you take up, this must be your main task.

Class of '60

The University of Toronto, Canada's largest . . . sends graduates to all corners of the country . . . professional people, liberal arts graduates, scientists—they travel to the far North and to the East and West coasts, to small centres and major cities.

EATON'S, Canada's largest retailing organization . . . also covers the country, with its large main stores, branch stores, order offices . . . and its huge mail order catalogue circulation.

Wherever your career may take you in Canada, you will find EATON'S ready to serve you, as it has during your student days at Varsity.

TORONTONENSIS

ABOUT THIS BOOK

In Torontonensis 1960, the text is set in 10 point Corona on an 11 point body. Display heads are 24 point and 18 point Clarendon, and 12 point Text Bold Caps. The book is printed on Nipigon Enamel paper by Age Publications Limited. Engravings are 110 screen on zinc, and are produced by Eaton's Photoengraving.

Faculty Reps

Representatives from each college and faculty provide a vital link in making Torontonensis the all-campus yearbook. They gather photos and club write-ups, sell books, and collect graduation biographies. For 1959-60, the following students were faculty reps:

Architecture	Fred Valentine	Pharmacy	Natalie Grieg
Com. and Fin.	Jim Snider	P.H.E.	Thory Milton
Dentistry	Ed Gazo	P. & O. T.	Carolyn Le Maitre
Engineering	Bill Palm	St. Michael's	Kevin McEvenue
Emmanuel	Paul Newman		Mary Catherine Collins
Forestry	Dave Wright		Betty Ann O'Brien
Knox	Norman Beare	Trinity	Judie McManus
Law	Harry Malcolmson	U.C.	David Halton
Medicine	Ken Adams	Victoria	Syrielle Greenberg
Music	Elfrieda Gleusteen		Helen Truscott
Nursing	Trudy Schmidt	Wycliffe	Rick Winter
			Charlie Farr

Acknowledgements

Genuine thanks go to the many people who have generously given their time and assistance to make this book possible. Only a few of these individuals can be mentioned here.

Mr. Walter Finch and Mr. Jack Sparks of Age Publications for their indispensable helpfulness and friendly co-operation at all times.

Mr. Orr and Mr. Drury of Eaton's Photoengraving for their fine service.

Mr. E. A. Macdonald, the S.A.C. Business Manager of Torontonensis, for his handling of the business affairs in a capable and experienced manner.

Mr. M. F. Murrill, the S.A.C. accountant, for his helpfulness, interest, and time.

Mary Carol Knowlton and the S.A.C. office secretaries for their prompt and willing assistance all year.

Clive Chamberlain, S.A.C. Publication Commissioner, and Walter McLean, S.A.C. President, for their calm and cheerful help despite pressure of their positions.

Mr. Leroy Toll for his excellent graduation portraits, his friendly interest, and his experienced co-operation.

Peeter Sepp for his modern, appealing cover illustration, and his bright and striking dust jacket design.

Ron Carr for his excellent campus photographs, George Harpur for his fine portraits for the Profiles section and Bev Best, for countless group photos, including those of the 'Nensis' staff.
